TAFT TAKES HIS STAND

SENT MESSAGE TO CONGRESS TODAY ASKING FOR TAX ON CORPORATIONS.

HE ALSO IS IN FAVOR OF AN INCOME TAX

Says That There Should Be an Amendment to the Constitution to That Effect, Thus Making Act Absolutely Legal.

Washington, June 16.—A special message from the president, recommending an amendment to the tariff bill imposing an excise tax of 2 per cent on the net income of corporations and join stock companies, except national banks, savings banks and building and loan associations, was received by congress today.

The president also recommends that both houses by a two-thirds vote shall propose an amendment to the constitution conferring the power to levy an income tax upon the national government without apportionment among the states in proportion to population.

The president in the message points out the apparent inability of congress to agree to an inheritance tax, and as regards the income tax he refers to the decision of the supreme court, holding an income tax unconstitutional unless apportioned according to population.

"It is," says the message, "undoubtedly a power which the government ought to have, as it might be indispensable to the national life in a great crisis. The amendment, therefore," he declares, "is the only proper course, being preferable to reviving a law which has been judicially declared unconstitutional."

PLACED IN STRAIGHT JACKET

Patient at the Katy Hospital Whose Reason Is Dethroned.

An unknown man, a native of Bohemia, who has been a patient at M., K. & T. hospital, was taken violently insane on the public streets last night, and was lodged in jail by Officer Jackson, pending investigation.

The man harbors the idea that he is an intimate friend of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, and continually requests that he be liberated, so that he can join "Teddy."

The patient became worse this forenoon, and, guarded by Officers Eads and McCabe and Billy Drake, was taken to the railway hospital, where he was placed in a straight-jacket.

Calvary Parish Picnic.

The Sunday school of Calvary parish will hold its annual picnic tomorrow at the water works on Flat creek, leaving the parish hall at 1 o'clock p. m. In case of rain, the picnic will be postponed until next week.

20,000 TOMATO PLANTS

PARTY OF FIVE MEN AND TWENTY BOYS SETTING THEM FOR DR. CARTER

FOUR ACRES THAT ARE ALREADY IN BLOOM

Another 20,000 to Be Planted, Thus Giving Thirty Acres for Growing of Vegetable—Soon Erect a Canning Factory.

Five men and twenty boys were put to work yesterday by Dr. William M. Carter setting out 20,000 tomato plants on his thirty-acre tract of ground near the Country club, in Southwest Sedalia, where he is to establish, in the immediate future, a canning factory for the utilizing of the season's product.

These 20,000 plants will occupy thirteen acres of ground.

Dr. Carter had previously planted four acres of ground, and these first plants are now in bloom.

Dr. Carter intends setting out 20,000 additional plants within the next few days. All of these plants come from Springfield, Mo.

Today's rain is appreciated to the fullest by Dr. Carter, as it does away with the necessity of hauling many tanks of water for the purpose of watering the plants.

A first-class canning factory should have been established in Sedalia years ago. The local press has advocated it for years, but no one could be found who cared to take hold of the enterprise until Dr. Carter shied his castor into the ring, and it is to be sincerely hoped that his fondest anticipations will be realized on his investment.

A FIRE AT MR. OLENDORF'S

Former Sedalian Has Blaze at Home in Springfield.

The south side fire department was called to the residence of George F. Olendorf, at 438 St. Louis street, yesterday afternoon, says Tuesday's Springfield Leader.

A blaze had been started in a room occupied by Mrs. A. T. Campbell, who, in looking for an article under a lounge, set fire to the excelsior. The blaze spread rapidly, setting fire to the curtains and carpet and filling the house with smoke.

The fire was extinguished quickly on the arrival of the firemen.

In addition there will be contests of various natures, at the close of which prizes will be awarded.

At night there will be a grand display of fireworks.

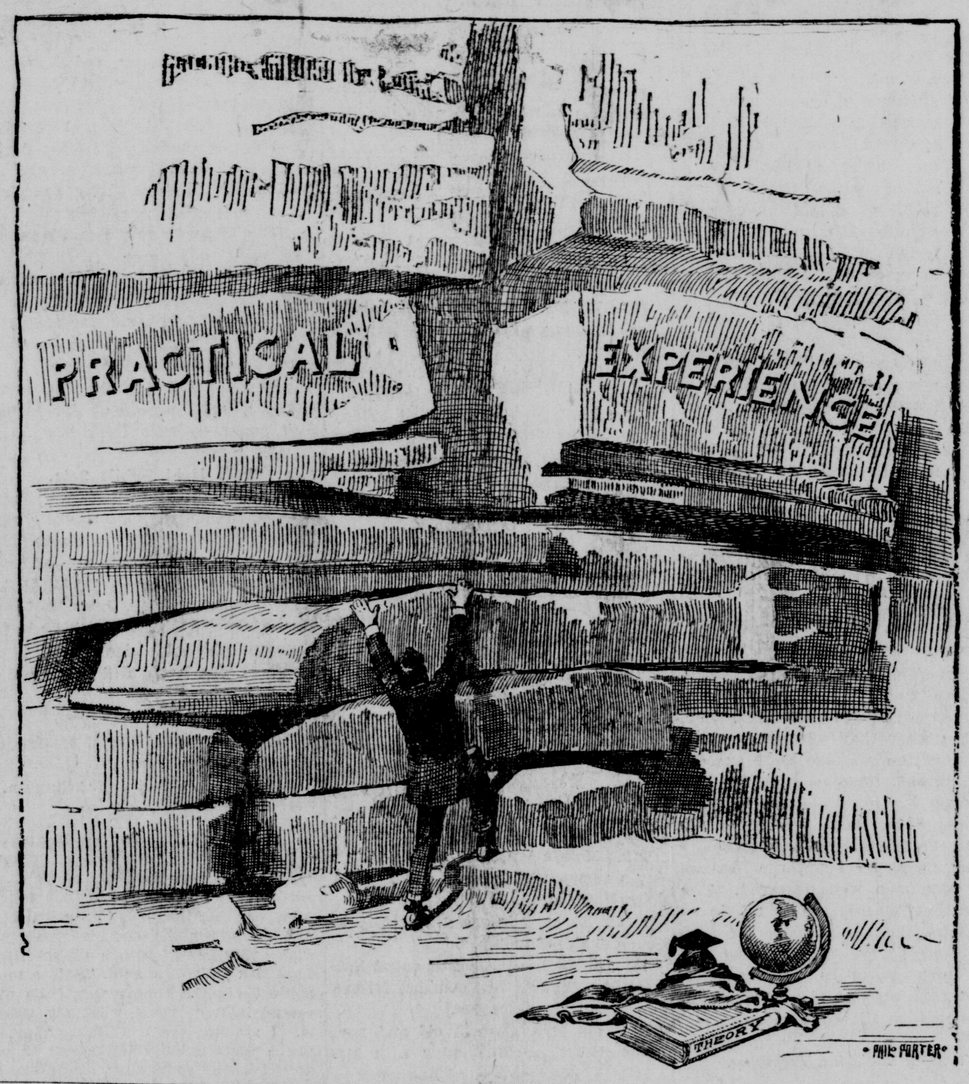
THE COLLEGE GRADUATE



WHEELER HOME BURNED

DWELLING AND CONTENTS DESTROYED AT 11 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT.

THE INMATES HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Escaped Through a Window, But Did Not Save Single Article of Furniture—Loss of $1,250 Covered By Insurance.

Bert M. Wheeler's home, situated three miles south of town, together with the contents, was totally destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock last night. The loss is estimated at $1,250.

The house was a four-room residence, owned by George Emo. Mr. Wheeler held a lease on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler retired early last night, and shortly after 11 o'clock Mrs. Wheeler was awakened by smelling smoke.

She arose and began an investigation. She started toward the kitchen and opened a door leading to her bedroom. The kitchen was full of flames, and instantly they shot into the adjoining room.

Neither Mr. Wheeler nor his wife had time to gather together any of their clothing. Both hurriedly jumped through the window in the front room and barely escaped with their lives.

The house was reduced to ashes and not a single piece of furniture was saved.

Mr. Wheeler and wife, the latter only with a few pieces of wearing apparel, drove to town and are temporarily located at the home of Mrs. Wheeler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vollmer, on North Grand avenue.

Mr. Wheeler's loss amounted to $900, while that of Mr. Emo was $350. The loss of each is covered by insurance.

HELD CABINET MEETING

President's Advisors Thought to Have Considered Tax Message.

Washington, June 16.—President Taft today held a special cabinet meeting at which Senator Root was also present. It is inferred that the meeting was called to obtain the views of the cabinet members regarding the president's proposed message to congress today regarding the tax on the net earnings of corporations. The protracted session gave rise to a report that the message might not be sent to congress until tomorrow, but when the meeting adjourned nothing was made public.

INVENTION OF KATY MAN

AUTOMATIC ASHPAN INSTALLED BY MASTER MECHANIC C. T. McELVANEY.

SAID TO BE THE BEST YET TURNED OUT

If the Pan Gives Satisfaction, and There Is Little Doubt That It Will, All Engineers Will Be Thus Equipped.

Denison, Texas, June 16.—Engine No. 329, a big passenger puller, has been released from the Katy shops here after a complete overhauling and is being broken in by Charley Rader, the south end engineer, and his fireman, Bob Chaffin.

This engine has been equipped with an automatic ash pan invented by C. T. McElvaney, master mechanic at the Katy shops here, which is said by those who have seen it in operation to be the best thing of the kind so far turned out.

The pan has a sliding bottom that is worked by compressed air, getting the power from the air pump on the engine.

The fireman is supposed to attend to the ash pan, and the lever governing it is on the fireman's side, near the blower cock.

When the air is turned on, the entire bottom slides forward, an air cylinder, which projects forward between the drivers, and fitted with a piston, operating it.

It is expected that if the pan gives satisfaction, and there is little doubt that it will, the engines will all be equipped with it as fast as practicable.

THE PROPOSED NEW BANK

Still Looking for a Desirable Location for Institution.

The reference in the Democrat-Sentinel last evening to the proposed establishment of a state bank in Sedalia caused no end of comment in business circles.

Today the names of several gentlemen have been mentioned in connection with the enterprise, but "mum" is the word with them.

W. A. Sanders, formerly cashier of the People's bank at Green Ridge, is said to be the prime mover in the undertaking, but he is not working with a brass band accompaniment.

It is said efforts have been made to lease buildings on the west side of Ohio, between Main and Second; the east side of Ohio, between Second and Third, and the west side of Ohio, between Third and Fourth, but all to no purpose.

If the enterprise succeeds, it is presumed the gentlemen interested will make their plans public in due time, but until then nothing definite can be stated in the premises.

GOV. HADLEY RAN BLUFF

HOW THE SALOON LICENSES IN JACKSON COUNTY CAME TO BE "RAISED."

AND ALSO THE SALARIES OF THE JUDGES

The Chief Executive's Play of Diplomacy Will Cost the Saloon Men in Jackson County $62,500 a Year.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—When the matter of raising state saloon licenses was brought up before the Jackson county court a few days ago, the two democratic judges stood right up and talked about republican extravagance, which had reduced the state to such extremes.

"Raise saloon licenses? Not much, never!" they said.

The word was carried back to Governor Hadley. Probably it was just a coincidence that he happened to have in his hand a bill which raises the salaries of the Jackson county judges $1,500 a year.

The governor also said something about extravagance. What he said was carried right back to the county court.

The result was that the court hardly waited to get in session yesterday before it raised the saloon license $100.

When Governor Hadley heard about it, he signed the bill to raise the salaries of the judges.

This little play of diplomacy will cost the saloon men in Jackson county $62,500 a year.

FAILED TO GET A LICENSE

Louis B. La Duke, Lamonte, and Lulu B. Hall, Knobnoster.

Louis B. La Duke, of Lamonte, a neat appearing young man, and Lulu L. Hall, a 17-year-old girl from Knobnoster, approached the office of Recorder Morey today and applied for a marriage license.

The would-be groom was of age, but his intended wife was not, and they did not have an affidavit from the girl's parents giving their consent, in consequence of which a license was refused.

"I thought we needed only two witnesses," the blushing would-be groom remarked, as he left the place, with instructions to get the permission of the parents for their daughter to marry.

ESCAPED HORRIBLE DEATH

Assistant Chief of Police Robertson While Fishing.

Sheriff M. T Henderson, Fred Robertson, assistant chief of police; J. H. Bower, a police officer, and N. P. Kemp, a Missouri Pacific secret service officer, returned last night from Concordia, where they spent Tuesday, bagging more than a dozen squirrels.

During the day Assistant Chief Robertson attempted to cross a stream and sank to his waist in the mud.

For a time other members of the party thought Fred was going to be engulfed completely, but he managed to escape a horrible death.

Engineer's Wife Operated Upon.

Mrs. J. E. Walker, wife of a Missouri Pacific engineer, residing at 516 East Fourth street, was operated upon by Drs. H. L. and K. R. Barnum at her home at 11 o'clock this morning for female trouble.

MRS. GOULD A TERROR

WITNESSES SAY WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE INTOXICATED MANY TIMES.

SHE TALKED PERFECTLY SCANDALOUS

Employes Testified That Language Used Toward Them Would Not Bear Repeating in Open Court.

New York, June 16.—Evidence to show that the conduct of Mrs. Katherine Gould justified the action of her husband, Howard Gould, in declining to live with her was resumed today in the hearing of Mrs. Gould's suit for separation and alimony.

Harry Turner, florist, who has charge of the garden and flowers of Castle Gould, was the first witness. He told of several occasions when he had seen Mrs. Gould decidedly intoxicated, in his opinion. At one time, he said, he was summoned to the office of the estate and upbraided by Mrs. Gould. She kept repeating that she was Mrs. Howard Gould and appeared greatly excited and under the influence of liquor. Mr. Malley, the manager of the estate, was also present, and the witness said Mrs. Gould turned on him (Malley) and told him he was discharged, calling him names which would not bear repeating.

FRANCHISE WAS REFUSED

And Bell Telephone Co. Will Not Install Switchboard.

The city council of Green Ridge has refused to grant a franchise to the Bell Telephone company for the installation of a switchboard in that town, in consequence of which the establishment of an exchange at Green Ridge has been temporarily abandoned.

Monday night was the time set for the council granting a permit to do business there. The switchboard had been ordered and shipped, and was in readiness to be installed, when the council "balked" and refused to permit it to be installed.

The matter is still pending.

THEY WILL QUIT THE ROAD

The Messrs. Quinn to Resume Former Positions Here.

William and Joseph Quinn, traveling salesmen for the Roberts-Johnson-Rand Shoe company, of St. Louis, who have been traveling in Pennsylvania, will tender their resignations soon, on account of the death of their brother, M. F. Quinn, business manager of the Quinn Bros. shoe store in this city.

The Messrs. Quinn will resume their old positions in the Quinn shoe store, necessitated by the death of their brother.

Boats Were Not Filibustering.

Washington, June 16.—The mystery surrounding the movements of the steamer Nanticoke and the tug Dispatch, which were suspected of filibustering, was cleared up today when the state department received official advices from the Venezuelan government declaring that the vessels were the property of that government. They will now be allowed to proceed to Caracas.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH AS A LIFE SAVER.

Once more the value of wireless telegraph as a life saving instrument on the ocean has been demonstrated in a striking manner in the rescue of the passengers from the Cunard line steamship Slavonia, which was wrecked off the Azores.

When the vessel, which carried passengers and crew, aggregating several hundred souls, went ashore, the omnious distress signal, "cdq," was flashed out upon the air in all directions. A vessel equipped with the Marconi invention proceeding on her course 180 miles away, a distance almost equal to the width of the state of Missouri, picked up the call for help. The message meant a marine disaster and told the location definitely. Another ship, also far from the scene, also plucked the distress cry out of space. Both steamers altered their courses immediately and raced to the place where an ocean grayhound was pounding herself to pieces on the rocks of islands out in the broad Atlantic. They reached the Slavonia in time to take off every man, woman and child without the loss of a single life. All this took place within forty-eight hours and within the next twenty-four hours the Cunard boat was a total wreck.

The story is one that impresses the world. It recalls in all its vividness the rescue of the steamer Republic near this continent only a few months ago, when several hundred lives were snatched out of the jaws of death by fleet vessels which scurried to the scene of the collision from our ports. The Republic sank a few hours after the rescue, and a catastrophe which would have shocked the world was averted by the mysterious waves of a wireless telegraph key.

Thee two incidents ought to impel the equipment of every vessel that sails the seas with wireless apparatus. It should be regarded as just as necessary to the protection of a ship as lifeboats and watertight compartments.

It perhaps is a question just now how efficient wireless telegraph would prove on the Great Lakes as a life saver, inasmuch as most of the disasters occur during storms in which assistance by another boat is impossible, and yet there can be little doubt that it would be found of great value in many emergencies.

REVISION OF THE TARIFF UPWARD.

Is Senator Aldrich revising the tariff upward or downward? This is a question often asked these days as one after another of the various schedules of the tariff bill are taken up and disposed of in the senate.

On cotton goods Senator Aldrich changed the rate from an ad valorem to a specific basis. Senator La Follette, who has been one of the conspicuous "progressives" in open revolt against the exorbitant duties the Rhode Island senator has forced into the measure, has made a valuable translation of the cotton rates back from the specific to the ad valorem. In view of Senator Aldrich's statement that the change was not such as to effect an increase in the tariff, the comparison is illuminating. La Follette's translation covers fourteen classifications in the cotton schedule, from which we quote as follows:

Take the grade of goods valued at over 10 cents—and I am going to read these through so they will be or record—valued at over 10 cents and not over 12½ cents per square yard; the Dingley ad valorem rate applied to that value is 2½ cents per square yard for the lowest value to 3⅛ cents per square yard for the highest value. The rate fixed by the Aldrich bill is 4⅜ cents per square yard on all, the low and the high. Increase over lowest Dingley rate 75 per cent.

Passing to the grade valued at over 14 cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is 3½ cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent, while the rate fixed in the Aldrich bill is 7 cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 100 per cent.

On the grade of bleached cloth, valued at over 11 and not over 12 cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is from 2¾ cents to 3 cents per square yard, and the rate fixed by the Aldrich bill is 4¼ cents per square yard on all, the low value as well as the high value, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 54½ per cent.

On the next grade of bleached cotton, valued at over 12 and not over 15 cents per square yard, the Dingley ad valorem, reduced to a specific rate, is from 3 to 3¼ cents per square yard. The specific rate fixed in the Aldrich bill for cloth of these values is 5¼ cents per square yard, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 75 per cent.

On the grade valued at over 15 cents per square yard the Dingley rate is 4 cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent. The Aldrich rate is 8 cents per square yard, no matter what the value may be, but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 100 per cent.

On the grade of dyed cotton goods valued at over 15 and not over 17½ cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is 4½ to 5¼ cents, while the Aldrich rate proposed is 7 cents per square yard, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 55½ per cent.

Eight other classifications are translated by the Wisconsin senator in which the increases are, respectively, 28½, 33 1-3, 76, 22, 60, 4, 40 and 52½ per cent. Besides these there are nineteen other classifications in the cotton schedules in which similar increases have been made, but these are enough, to quote from Senator La Follette to "show whether or not Senator Aldrich is telling the truth when he says that the new cotton schedules are 'substantially the same.'"

RECOGNITION OF GENIUS.

The presentation of medals to the Wright brothers by President Taft was an incident of international interest, but, of course, had special significance to Americans.

The ceremony which took place in the historic east room of the White House, though simple, was marked by dignity and impressiveness befitting the occasion. Though not an official function, the presentation was a recognition by the American people of what two of their number had accomplished in being the first to produce a practical heavier-than-air flying machine, an achievement that places this country in the lead in such inventions, and the importance of which is fully appreciated by the average American citizen.

President Taft, in an exceedingly happy speech, dwelt upon the typical American courage and determination shown by the brothers, who, knowing what they wished to find, worked at the problem until success was attained. But triumph brought no undue sense of elation, and the compliment by the head of the nation to the two men who so modestly and unassumingly bear the honors fairly won was well deserved. The incident at Washington will help to emphasize the importance of the work done by the Wrights, and will be a fresh incentive to American genius aspiring to add to the practical knowledge of the world.

SCOURING YOUR SCALP

Will Remove the Loose Dandruff Scales, But It Won't Cure Dandruff.

If your hair is brittle and thinning you have dandruff. The mere scouring of the scalp of the loose scales, won't cure dandruff; because daudruff is nothing but scales of scalp being thrown up by a pestiferous little germ in burrowing its way to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality, causing falling hair and, in time, baldness. Now you can't stop dandruff nor falling hair, nor prevent baldness unless you destroy that germ; and the only preparation that can do it is the new scientific discovery, Newbro's Herpicide. In fact no other hair preparation claims to kill the dandruff germ—all of them will clean the scalp; soap and water will do that, but only Newbro's Herpicide gets at the root of the trouble and kills the dandruff germ. The Meaning of House Pride.

Sometimes one hears the expression, "house proud," applied to a housewife who is particular about the neatness of her home. It is not a name to resent, for it indicates a refined taste. Let us help you to cultivate this by means of our artistic wall paper.—West's Book Shop.

Will Hold Public Sale.

Not in the Work for Money.

Gypsy Smith, the evangelist, recently held services in Kansas City. A report that he receives $20,000 a year for preaching the gospel reached him, and he promptly issued a strong denial. "My salary is not one-fourth of $20,000 a year," he said. "It is a most modest salary. People would be surprised if they knew what my salary is. I am not out to make money. I could make a lot more money than I do if I were to make my own plans instead of having them made for me. I have had offers on the lecture platform that would take four or five years of my time in this country alone."

Defense of Canned Products.

That foods properly canned do not deteriorate with age was a statement made at a dinner of canners in Chicago a few days ago. "Suppose a customer desired a can of corn on February 22, 1920," said one of the speakers, "and was given corn canned in 1909. It would be rejected with a demand for 'something fresher,' and, although the 1909 article would be found as fresh as that of 1920 it would be lost. At a recent banquet in London canned fruit taken from the ruins of Pompeii was found to be fresh and fine. There should be a law to compel the canning of all products in such a manner that they would keep for ages."

Where Robin Feels at Home.

"For some time past," writes a correspondent from Nantwich, "a robin has used our house for meals. We have only to open the window and call 'Bob,' when he flies at once into the room."

His favorite dining room is the nursery, and if the window is closed he will try every other window, and when he has found one open will fly through the house to the nursery. If he finds all the windows closed he flies about until he has found a room where someone is sitting, when he will tap at the window until it is opened. — London Daily Mail.

The Phonograph in China.

American phonograph companies do a big business in China. The most famous Chinese bands and palace singers are engaged to make records. They are brought from all parts of the empire to the three record-making centers—Peking, Shanghai and Hongkong. Here the apparatus for making the master records is set up and the recording done under the direction of an expert. A record popular in the north of China seldom is popular in the south.

Pronunciation of Caesar, Cicero.

The word Caesar is pronounced as though spelled se-zar, the accent on the first syllable, the "e" long and the "a" pronounced as in far. The word Cicero is pronounced as though spelled sis-e-ro, the accent on the first syllable, the "i" short, the "e" short as in "prudent" or "difference," and the "e" long.

Canada to Import Yaks.

A herd of six fine yaks is to be imported by the Canadian government, and started in business on the experimental farm at Ottawa. The animal is about the size of common cattle, but is better fitted to endure the cold. It is valuable for milk, beef, hide and hair, and is easily nourished on sparse vegetation.

HAIR WANTED

There is one place where bald headed men shine, and that is in the front row seats of the theatre. They do not obscure your view like the "merry widow" hats, and the reflection of the footlights on their pates lends a certain glamour to the scene. If these bald headed people had used Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Restorer in their earlier days they would not be so conspicuous now. This preparation does not plant new hair, but it does strengthen weak, dying hair and not only brightens dull, parched hair, but gradually restores the color to faded or gray hair. It is not a dye, but a clean, wholesome hair dressing, which can be used daily with perfect safety. It is put up in large bottles, holding sufficient for thirty-five or one hundred home treatments, and is sold by all druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct, express prepaid, by the Wyeth Chemical Co., 74 Cortlandt St., New York City.

Try a bottle today and you will never be without it.

GIRL LIVED IN LUXURY

WITH SAMUEL S. LAIRD, JR., FOR SEVERAL MONTHS BEFORE BEING DISCARDED.

NOW $50,000 IS ALL THAT WILL SATISFY

Big Damages Demanded by the "Sandsnipe Girl," Who Sues Laird in New York Court for Breach of Promise.

New York, June 16.—Samuel S. Laird, jr., son of a millionaire shoe manufacturer, is being sued in the supreme court for $50,000 damaged for alleged breach of promise to marry, by the sweetheart whom in other days he dubbed the "Sandsnipe girl."

This was his pet name for Cora Sinclair, who testified that she lived in luxury with him for several months, relying on his promise to wed after his father died.

Laird came to court accompanied by his wife, who was formerly Mrs. Lillian C. Hayes, a prominent society woman of Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird listened with interest as the attorneys for Miss Sinclair read a bunch of love letters written by Laird, and displayed a half bushel of rich gifts which the plaintiff's lawyers claimed she had received from him.

Nathan Burkman, counsel for Laird, filed an answer, in which Laird denied that he ever proposed to marry the plaintiff, and that her reputation was such as not to entitle her to damages.

All this was denied by her counsel, Robert L. Tuck.

The trial is still in progress.

MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

To Keep Young People in Church Urged by Clergyman.

Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—A moving picture show, under the direction of the church, was urged at the Baptist minister's conference yesterday by Rev. Dr. W. Y. Quisenberry as a practicable means of keeping the young people in the fold of religion.

He suggested further that substantial funds might be raised for church institutions by persuading young men to save the nickels and dimes they now spend in buying ice cream sodas for the girls, and instead dedicate them to the gospel cause.

Dr. Quisenberry is secretary of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary at Louisville, Ky.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

WIFE HAD TO "TIP" HELP

MRS. EMMA DOUGLAS, SUING FOR DIVORCE, SAYS SHE ALSO PAID FOR MEALS.

IN ADDITION, PAID HUSBAND A SALARY

Says Atlantan Rolled Over in Bed When Told Mother-in-Law Was Dead—Defendant Is Worth About $500,000.

Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—Mrs. Emma Neal Douglas, daughter of the late Thomas B. Neal, of the Neal bank, and worth $200,000 in her own right, who sues for divorce, charges that her husband, E. Lee Douglas, lawyer and capitalist, made her pay for her own meals, made her purchase the theater tickets, and tip the waiters. He also refused to let her buy a coat with her own money, she avers.

Douglas' wealth is said to be about $500,000, most of which was made by managing the estates of his wife, according to the petition of Mrs. Douglas.

Mrs. Douglas alleges that her husband allowed but one light in the house at night; that she had to get his consent to invite guests to the house and then had to bear the extra expense; that he complained if the servants got anything but bread to eat; that he kicked when there were more than four potatoes on the table.

She says her husband got a profit of $5,000 a year from her estate and then wanted to charge her an additional salary.

She charges Douglas with drawing up an agreement by which if either party quarreled, the offending one had to submit to being kissed 100 times, at place and time designated by the kisser, and a private and public apology was also asked.

She adds that when her mother died she sent word to him and that he turned over in bed and went back to sleep and had to again be aroused to go for an undertaker.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful "Cascarets" for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to "Cascarets" for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

UNIONS NEED CHURCHES

PREACHER AT WASHINGTON, D. C., REPLIES TO CHARGES OF LABOR.

HAD QUITE A RUMPUS AT THE CAPITAL

Rev. MacLeod Declares Charge That He Patronizes Open Barber Shop Is Silly and Impertinent.

Washington, June 16.—"The unions are making a big mistake if they think the church needs them. It is they that need the church. If they attend church it will be as men, not as a union."

This is the answer made by the Rev. Dr. Donald C. McLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, yesterday to the action taken by the Central Labor Union Monday night, when it considered an invitation to attend his Sunday night "moving picture" services.

"As to my patronizing a non-union barber, such a criticism of me by the union is childish and impertinent."

"If the ministers of this town want union men to be numbered among their auditors they should do something to show that they appreciate union principles," said Secretary Samuel De Nedry, of the central body, as soon as Dr. McLeod's invitation was read at Monday night's meeting.

"The minister in question, to my own personal knowledge, patronizes a non-union barber shop. In the future let him go to a barber shop where the union card is displayed."

De Nedry was named by President John H. Lorch as a committee of one to call upon Dr. MacLeod, expostulate with him and ask him in the future to patronize union barber shops.

LITTLE DOG'S YELPING

Brought Rescuers to Man After 30 Hours, but in Vain.

Asheville, N. C., June 16.—Buried upright in an abandoned mine in Mitchell county by debris which covered him to the chin so that he could not move, John English, a young man of Mitchell county, remained from Monday morning until Wednesday afternoon, when he was taken out by rescuers attracted by the constant yelping of his little dog, which remained steadily at the mouth of the shaft.

His companion, Henry Woody, who was completely buried by the fall of earth, was dead when taken out, and English died six hours after being rescued.

The dog had remained at the shaft for thirty hours.

CITY IS IN MUCH DANGER

Salina, Kas., Will Be Flooded if River Rises Six Inches More.

Salina, Kas., June 16.—As a result of the recent heavy rains throughout the water shed of Smoky Hill river, that stream passed the danger line here today and a further rise of six inches will inundate fully a quarter of this city.

It is feared that this mark will be reached when the effect of last night's downpour in the west is felt here.

WOW, THIS IS A "CORKER"

In Snake Story Line, and the Narrators Are Staid Jurists.

Newport, Pa., June 16.—Four grave and dignified members of the bar are sponsors for the latest snake story of the season.

Judge W. Scholl and Messrs. J. Mack Barnet, Charles Smiley and W. N. Seibert, of the New Bloomfield bar, went fishing. They took along a lunch basket containing a three-foot length of bologna sausage and a "sarsaparilla" bottle.

They fished for several hours. Then they turned to the lunch basket. The bologna and the bottle were gone.

Judge Scholl discovered a huge blacksnake stretched along the road oblivious to the world. The snake was killed and a post-mortem revealed in the reptile's stomach the sausage and the bottle of whisky intact.

Prisoner Was Not Affected.

Shortly after his rise to the bench, Judge Coleman of San Francisco had occasion to pronounce a life sentence upon a notorious offender. In the course of his remarks the judge spoke with so much feeling and eloquence that many of the listeners were deeply affected. The prisoner, on the other hand, seemed to be quite indifferent, looking at the ceiling and apparently giving no attention whatever to what was being said. After he had been remanded to jail one of the young lawyers had gone into the cell, curious to know how the criminal had felt when his honor was passing sentence upon him. "What do you mean?" asked the convicted one. "I mean when the judge was telling you you must go to prison for life." "You mean when he was talking to me?" "Yes." "Oh, I never paid no attention to Dick Coleman; he ain't no public speaker, nohow!"

A Wall Street Confession.

The broker runs the most profitable end of the game. Perhaps you have never realized that most New York stock exchange houses with any sort of clientele maintain their offices on what they make on interest charges, which every monthly statement shows, and which not one of a hundred speculators can verify. The commission and interest charges that go to the brokerage firm make the percentage an almost impossible one to overcome. This percentage is far bigger than in roulette. Do you think you can win in the long run playing roulette? If you think you can, then go ahead and speculate. If in doubt, then let me tell you that in almost three years I had over 200 accounts, and not only have I never seen anybody make any money to keep, but I have seen many a fortune wiped out.—Everybody's.

Long Fight on Strauss Ended.

When the Reichsanzeiger announced recently the fact that Richard Strauss, composer of "Salome" and "Elektra," had been elected a member of the Academy, a neighboring journal's only comment was: "Endlich!" ("At last!") In explanation the Berliner Tageblatt says that Strauss' name had been before the academy as a candidate for membership for three years and that the opposition to his admission was led by Josef Joachim. "The other party, in favor of Strauss, under the leadership of Professor Humperdinck, worked hard, however, and finally triumphed. The report that the kaiser's influence was used to bring about Strauss' election is without foundation."

Intricate Carvings in Ivory.

Collectors of ivory groups and carved figures have the satisfaction of knowing that their treasures will increase in value rather than otherwise; for despite the efforts made to preserve big game, elephant ivory gets scarcer and dearer. Heads—real portraits and typical mementoes of people almost forgotten—are difficult to collect, yet that comparatively little known potentate the amir of Afghanistan is said to possess the finest collection in the world. The great sculptors of the Renaissance worked in ivory, Cellini and Raphael gaining great proficiency in it. In the sixteenth century Augsburg and Nuremberg were especially noted for it. It is, however, from the east—India, Persia, China—that the most intricate carving comes.

SHE KICKED ON TIGHTS

A WASHINGTON SOCIETY GIRL QUITS STAGE AND SEES SHOW FROM FRONT.

"IT HAPPENED IN NORDLAND" WAS PLAY

Miss Almyra Sessions Was Engaged to "Lead the Soldiers," but Nothing Was Said About Her Wearing Tights.

Washington, June 16.—Miss Almyra Sessions, one of the most prominent society girls in Washington, who secretly made her stage debut here one week ago, balked at appearing in tights in "It Happened in Nordland" at the National theater Monday night just before the performance, and her part was assumed by Lenna Duer, another member of the company.

Miss Sessions put on her street clothes just as the curtain went up and left the stage, later purchasing seats in the orchestra and witnessing the performance from the front.

Miss Sessions, who is the daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Reeves Russell, wife of Col. Russell of the marine corps, has appeared in the principal parts of several amateur performances which have been given each season by members of the exclusive younger set.

She has a fine voice, and recently returned from abroad, where she had studied under celebrated teachers.

Without notifying any of her friends, Miss Sessions obtained an engagement with the Aborn Opera company here and appeared professionally for the first time last Monday night a week ago in a small part in the "Sultan of Sulu."

She made a hit and was engaged for the second week. Miss Sessions was told she was to "lead the soldiers" in the second act, but nothing was said about her wearing tights.

F. T. Cain warrants Vigoral or "S" flour the very best.

Then like a flash you make a noose with the lash around upper and lower jaw. And there he is, muzzled. It's a dodge I learned out west when I was cowboyin'."

FATHER OF 30 CHILDREN

JOHN GUY, A FARMER OF DELMAR, DEL., WHO IS 75 YEARS OF AGE.

POSSIBLY THE STORK MAY CALL AGAIN

Twenty Sons and Ten Daughters—Oldest Child Is 53 and Youngest 2 Years—Has Only Twenty-Three Grandchildren.

Delmar, Del., June 16.—One of the best exponents of anti-race suicide is John W. Guy, who is the father of thirty children, twenty sons and ten daughters, of whom there are twenty-one living, his eldest child, a son, being 53 years old. His youngest, a daughter, is 2 years old.

Mr. Guy is a farmer and resides at Melfa Station, near here. He was 75 years old on April 6 last. In 1855 he was married to Mary Ann Rayfield, a farmer's daughter, both being in their twenty-second year. To this union seven children were born.

On September 12, 1868, he was married to Margaret Elizabeth Ayres, 21 years of age. To this union eighteen children were born.

His last marriage to Lola Crockett, a beautiful girl of 16 years, has resulted thus far in adding five children to the family.

One of Mr. Guy's sons by his first marriage married a sister of his present wife and a daughter of his second wife married a brother of his present wife.

Despite the fact that Mr. Guy has raised twenty-one children, he has only twenty-three grandchildren and three great great-grandchildren, while eighteen of his own children are married.

MODERN FLOUR EXCELS THAT OF YEARS AGO

There has been an open discussion of late among millers, which is particularly interesting in cities where flour milling is one of the chief industries, whether the flour as milled now is as fine a quality as it was many years ago, when patent flour was first milled in Minneapolis. Most of the millers insist that modern flour is superior to any that was ever milled, while others, especially the old-timers, claim that wheat flour as manufactured by the Washburn-Crosby Co. years ago was so good as to make improvement a difficult matter.

The Washburn-Crosby Co. has decided the question emphatically, and all through chance, and the modern flour comes out a winner by several shades of whiteness. It is explained by those who are familiar with the history of the company that 14 years ago a scheme was thought out for packing flour in cartons for domestic use.

The idea was thought to be so good that a large number of four-pound cartons were ordered manufactured and the Washburn-Crosby flour put up in that shape. But it was too great a departure from custom and the carton idea at that time was not thought to be practical. So the new scheme was abandoned.

The other day one of those four-pound cartons, packed 14 years ago, was brought to light, and it was at once seen that here was an opportunity for comparison with the flour being milled at the present time. A test showed that the flour had kept well during the long period of 14 years, and had only deteriorated slightly in a minor function. Compared with the new flour, it was found to be coarser, and not as white as the GOLD MEDAL flour now milled by this company. The finding of the carton has set at rest all arguments as to the comparative quality of the flour now being milled in Minneapolis and that of a decade and a half ago.

CHICAGO'S SANE FOURTH

MUSIC IS TO BE RESORTED TO AS A SUBSTITUTE FOR FIRECRACKERS.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Chicago, June 16.—Spurred by America's record of 5,623 Fourth of July casualties in 1908, 4,413 in 1907 and 5,466 in 1906, Mayor Busse has officially declared for a sane "Fourth" for Chicago, but the suburb of La-Grange has outdone that, having taken the lead in trying music as a substitute for firecrackers in celebrating Independence day.

Band concerts, orchestra concerts and chorus singing are to be pitted against the sound of powder.

The deadly work of the giant cracker and toy pistol, as summarized by the Journal of the American Medical Association, shows 850 deaths upon the last five Fourths, 370 being from tetanus—lockjaw. Twenty-five thousand casualties of various kinds is the total for five years of pyrotechnical, detonating celebrations.

Chicago's rules will attempt to bar cannon crackers, toy pistols and any fireworks containing explosives more violent than black powder, and dealers found selling or keeping the tabooed noise makers are threatened with fines and the revocation of their licenses.

The limits of the Fourth are strictly prescribed and fireworks or noise makers of any kind are under ban except on the one day when the dog hides in the basement and the parents vainly long for peace and quiet.

All the wholesale and retail dealers in the city have been informed concerning the exact provisions of the ordinance, and the police have been instructed to be on the lookout for the display or sale in any store of the prohibited varieties of explosives.

The appearance of any of these explosives in the hands of persons also will be the signal for a police investigation and the arrest of offending citizens and dealers.

THE "WICKEDEST BLOCK IN THE WORLD"

Is Disappearing to Make Room for a Business Block—Meager Wages for Girls Causes the Downfall of Hundreds.

Old "Fourth avenue," one of the last landmarks of early Chicago and once called "the wickedest block in the world" by William T. Stead, the English editor, is disappearing to make room for an up-to-date business building.

This marks the passing of a street which for years was notorious in the annals of American criminal life from end of the country to the other. The center of the worst resorts in the city and a harboring place for criminals of every description, Fourth avenue at one time was known to the police as an unfailing breeder of disorder at any hour of the day or night. No other spot in the world, not even the Bowery in New York, could approach this narrow alley for the number of drinking resorts in one block, and murders, suicides and robberies were of frequent occurrence in the panel houses that flourished on the "Avenue."

There were at one time twenty-six saloons on the west side of the street in the block given over to vice. One of these was the famous resort of Tom Curley, which used to be headquarters for prize fighters, and where John L. Sullivan used to spend much of his time when visiting the city.

There is a tradition that after a big fight one night Sullivan laid a $1,000 bill down on the bar and treat everybody until the money was gone.

Anthony Connolly's saloon, on the corner of Fourth avenue and Harrison street, was another resort of world-wide notoriety in the early '80's, until Connolly was shot and killed one night by "Bob" Bruce. "Shang" Andrews, editor of a sporting sheet; Dan Scott, a negro gambler and race horse owner, and a score of others were among the interesting characters who lived in this unsavory neighborhood.

Even the name of the thoroughfare has a history. Before the civil war it was called Buffalo street and contained residences of some of the best families. After the great fire which swept the city in 1873 it was invaded by resort keepers and was rechristened Fourth avenue. Later the name was officially changed to Custom House court and again to Federal court, but the old name has never quite been displaced.

Fourth avenue began to wane about six years ago, when Mayor Harrison made the "red light" dead-line south of Harrison street. Three years later Mayor Dunne made a clean sweep by compelling the resort keepers to move to the Twenty-second street district. Since then the old frame buildings have been occupied by Italian families, which are now obliged to move to make room for a mammoth printing establishment which is to occupy the site.

Girls' meager wages and the white slave traffic have been accusingly linked by President Alexander Peterson, of the Illinois Retail Clerks' association, who declared in his annual report that many girl clerks are so underpaid they become easy victims of the procurers.

Not less than $9 a week is sufficient to support a girl clerk in the city stores, he declared. His address added to the information concerning the procuring done in the big department stores of Chicago, where girls waiting for jobs, often moneyless and sometimes hungry, were discovered by the Woman's World committee to be the frequent prey of men and women harpies, who sell them into the red light houses.

"If the working women were paid a living wage, white slavery to a great extent would be eliminated," declared President Peterson. "The girls have a right to live the same as anybody else, and many of them have sick mothers or younger brothers and sisters depending upon them, and when they cannot earn a living in the stores they are almost forced to the course of life that some of them take.

"I believe that the minimum wage for women in the stores should be $9 a week. Another thing. Many girls are working in stores simply to make a little pin money. They have homes and plenty, but they go to the stores as clerks just to get a little money to spend. They can dress better than the girls who work beside them and who are forced to work for a living.

"This makes the lot of the poor girl seem all the more hard, and if she is weak she is often induced to go wrong because of the dissatisfaction. The surest way to prevent white slavery is to remedy the conditions which are largely responsible for it."

The movement for more practical education in American public schools has just received a big forward impetus by the decision of the Chicago school board to abolish Latin and algebra in the lower grades and the serious consideration of a proposition to build an immense training school of domestic science for the girls of the city.

Plans for this school call for the expenditure of at least $300,000. Cooking and sewing will be the major subjects, but it is intended that girls shall also be taught how to make beds, sweep, dust and do many other useful things which they may have to do when they leave school and enter homes of their own.

No expense in equipment is to be spared if the plans are adopted, and the best teachers of cooking and sewing in the country are to be employed to instruct the future housewives in the art of making a home.

The return to the "three R's" and the common sense teaching of the "little red school house" days by the dropping of Latin and algebra in all but the higher grades is part of a general effort on the part of the board of education to bring modern school education more into harmony with the needs of the boys and girls.

"Algebra in the grades means the displacing of practical arithmetic," said a trustee in explanation. "Your boy or girl who is going to the High school will get algebra anyway. The boy or girl who is leaving school after the eighth grade needs arithmetic more. Latin is also not essential to the pupil who leaves school early. What they want are practical studies."

The adoption of a system of "combination school and shop" training for boys, a system as yet unknown in Chicago, rounded out one of the busiest sessions ever held by the committee. Under the new plan a boy desiring to learn a particular trade spends half of his time in school and the remaining half in a shop selected by the school officials. His diploma will be issued not only upon the knowledge acquired in school, but also on the practical results accomplished in the shop.

HE FAILED AS AERONAUT

URIAH SORENSON, OF BERWIN, NEB., FELL 3,000 FEET AND LIVES.

ASSERTS THAT HE WILL YET SUCCEED

Broken Leg, Cuts and Bruises Do Not Check His Ambition—Now in a Hospital in Hands of the Surgeons.

Omaha, Neb., June 16.—Although he probably will live, it will be a long time before Uriah Sorenson, the village blacksmith of Berwin, Neb., will agains be able to fly through the air. Today he is an inmate of the hospital, has a broken leg and any number of cuts, bruises and concussions, all received by having come in contact with the earth, after having fallen 3,000 feet.

Some months ago Sorenson was contaminated with the flying bug. He bought scientific works and read up on navigation of the air. He came to Omaha and watched the flights of the captive balloons and the dirigible airship at Fort Omaha. Then he went home and partitioned the back end of his work house and went into seclusion. Into it he carried silken cloth, cords and light wood. He worked behind closed doors and not even his most intimate friends had an inkling of what he was doing.

Last week he went to Omaha and secured a gas balloon that had been used at one of the parks. When this reached him he made the announcement that he was going to fly through the air and set yesterday morning for his first flight.

Early yesterday morning his balloon was filled with gas and anchored near his shop. Then the door of the shop were thrown open and a cigar-shaped concern, thirty feet long, was brought out. Near the center there was what appeared to be a saddle, at the rear was a knife-bladed propeller, from which a rod extended through the body of the machine, coming up in front of the saddle. On either side of the car were wings that extended out some thirteen feet, made of light and strong silk.

The balloon was towed directly over this strange looking ship and fastened to it with cords. All being in readiness, Sorenson hopped into the saddle and gave the word to cut loose. Balloon, airship and the man started toward the sky, going at a rapid rate of speed.

When they had reached a height that was estimated at 3,000 feet it was noticed that Sorenson had detached his ship from the balloon and was settling down as gently as a bird seeking a place to alight.

A cheer went up from the crowd watching him, when suddenly the people were horrified to see the machine turn turtle and dive through the air with the velocity of a bullet. Down it came, turning over and over, but with Sorenson still keeping in the saddle.

When within a couple of hundred feet of the ground, and when over a ploughed field, a half mile from the place the ascent was made, the machine righted and came down in that position, striking the ground and rebounding fifteen feet.

People hurried to the scene, expecting to find Sorenson dead, but they found him unconscious and with a broken limb and bruised. He was taken to a doctor's office and then to the hospital.

Last night he regained consciousness and stated that the accident was due to a fault of the rudder to work. It became jammed, he says, and would not hold the ship in position. Had it done so, he insists, the wings would have floated him and he would have landed without accident. He declares he has solved the problem of navigating the air and that he will build an airship and make a trip as soon as he is able to be about.

SUN IN ECLIPSE TOMORROW

Moon's Shadow Will Hide About Sixth of Surface.

The sun will be partially eclipsed tomorrow evening at 6:14 o'clock, when one-sixth of its surface will be shadowed by the moon.

Astronomically, the eclipse will be one of no importance. It will be visible in the United States north of a line extending from San Francisco to the Gulf of Mexico.

The true line of the eclipse runs from Siberia across the Arctic ocean and south through Greenland, where it will be total. It will be a central eclipse, in that the whole face of the sun will be obscured on the line of totality, while at an annual eclipse the edge of the sun is not obscured at the climax.

THE HOG TUBERCULOSIS

IT IS SAID TO BE INCREASING AND CAUSING GREAT LOSS TO STOCKMEN.

TWO PR. CT. SLAUGHTERED HAVE DISEASE

In Europe the Infection Is Greater Running as High as 5.5 to 7.5 Pr. Ct.—Animals From Southwest Not Affected.

Washington, June 16.—Reports gathered from the various meat-packing centers of the country show tuberculosis in hogs to be on the increase and causing heavier loss to raiser and packer alike than any other disease, according to the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture, headed by Dr. A. D. Melvin, who has gone to East St. Louis to superintend the investigation being made there of conditions claimed by a former inspector to prevail in the packing houses.

The hogs from the southwest, especially of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, are given a clean bill of health, so far as tuberculosis is concerned. Their freedom from the disease is said to be due to the methods of caring for them, or, rather, the lack of care. They are not confined to feed lots, where the disease is commonly found, but roam over large areas to shift for themselves.

A bulletin issued last night by the bureau says:

"Statistics show that a year ago there were over 56,000,000 hogs in this country, and their value at that time was over $339,000,000. Federal inspection at the abattoirs of the country shows 2 per cent of the hogs slaughtered have tuberculosis. Reports from Europe show a far more widespread infection that runs as high as 5.5 to 7.5 per cent.

"The small amount of money required to start in the hog-raising business and the quick returns on the amount invested make it an attractive field for operations. Hogs will make greater gains on less feed than almost any other live stock, and at the same time utilize profitably waste food products of every variety, if properly prepared. As tuberculosis in hogs is chiefly contracted through feeding, the significance of the latter feature is obvious."

An investigation carried on by the bureau of animal industry in a certain section of the middle west consisted of tagging hogs hauled to market in wagons. Of 3420 animals tagged it was learned that all of the affected stock came from less than 6 per cent of the farms. It is known beyond doubt that the majority of tuberculosis hogs are produced by the following causes:

1. Feeding raw milk and slime from creameries.
2. Feeding separated milk from tuberculosis cows.
3. Feeding behind tuberculosis cattle.
4. Feeding tuberculous carcasses.
5. Feeding slaughter house offal.

REAL MEAN OLD THINGS!

School Directors Put Ban on Strolls and Gentlemen Callers.

Detroit, Mich., June 16.—A war cloud hangs over the state normal school at Ypsilanti because of a recent order promulgated by the faculty, that all gentlemen callers at the university must be dismissed at 10 o'clock, and in addition, no female student will be permitted to leave Ypsilanti, thus making the customary jaunts over to Ann Arbor, where the men are, a thing of the past.

Furthermore it is decreed that every feminine co-ed must be in her rooming house by 9 o'clock every night, thus eliminating all youthful joys, as evening strolls, canoe rides and camp-fire parties.

The girls are furious and threaten all sorts of things. Many say they will attend other institutions before they will suffer such indignities.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

EVANS SEES DEFECT

GRAVE WORDS OF WARNING FROM "FIGHTING BOB."

Declares Ammunition of Warships Would Be Exhausted in Two Hours of Fighting — Navy Short of Torpedoes.

"The question of supplying ammunition to the American fleet during battle is one that will require most careful thought, for it is practically certain that at the present rate of firing the heavy guns will exhaust their supply in the first two hours of a battle," it is declared by Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, in Hampton's Magazine. Discussing some of the gravest dangers to which our battleships will be exposed in time of war, Fighting Bob adds that "naval battles of the future will begin at a range of about ten thousand yards and the result will depend on turret guns, their ability to hit and their power to resist or stand punishment. At the range stated a battleship appears a very small object to shoot at and the whole ship must be taken as a target for the guns to aim at.

"The idea of shooting at any particular gun port or men, or a single turret, will not be considered, but the gun pointer will be directed to aim at the ship amidships, that is, at the middle part of the ship, or at one end or the other, with the hope of striking the turrets or their guns. Shells that enter the broadside ports will do no harm to the personnel, and only those that enter the turrets will prove greatly destructive. Hitting gun ports will be entirely accidental.

"The gun ports will stand the same chance of being hit as any other equal area on the side of the ship and no more, no matter how well the enemy can shoot. This area, therefore, becomes a matter of great importance, but only so far as the turrets are concerned, because the broadside guns will not be used in battle at such ranges, and the men for these guns will not be exposed. The damage to the ship from shells entering these ports might be great, but the loss of life would be small."

Taking up the criticism to congress of the alleged defective gun turrets on the Kearsarge and Kentucky, Admiral Evans says:

"If, as stated, the openings of these two ships are ten feet square, the application of the simplest rule of arithmetic shows that about each would be an open space of 100 square feet. As each turret has two guns, the open space on the face of each turret would be 200 square feet. If this were true, the guns would be practically standing out in the open, for the whole face of the turret contains only about two hundred square feet of surface.

"Those who have seen many shells explode on ships in battle may, I think, form a very fair idea of what will happen in the future. During the bombardment of San Juan, Porto Rico, during the Spanish-American war, three shells came onto the upper deck of the Iowa in rapid succession and all exploded. As nearly as we could determine afterward by putting fragments of these shells together one was a nine-inch Krupp and the other two either eight-inch or ten-inch from old smooth-bore guns. They all exploded in the open superstructure deck of the ship and at the time the men of the crew to the number of 150 to 200 were crowded into this open space. We were not firing at the time and the men were observing the firing of the other ships. When the smoke of the exploding shells had cleared away we found much damage had been done, bottoms of boats blown out, ventilators wrecked, etc., but only three men were wounded, one seriously and two slightly."

As to the damage power of torpedoes in action, Admiral Evans sounds a warning regarding the dearth of torpedoes in the United States navy, but declares that the men who handle our battleships are in no way responsible for the shortage. When the American people, he concludes tersely, want the navy to have more torpedoes they have only to see that congress votes the necessary money to purchase them.

Traffic by Dog Team.

Dog teams are plentiful in Sault Ste. Marie. The boys and girls drive them for pleasure and the older people use them to travel into town from the surrounding country. They are also used to draw loads of 400 to 500 pounds, and this they do with ease. They travel five or six miles an hour and seem to enjoy it.

Both Newfoundlands and St. Bernards are used. The Indians of this section also drive dog teams, and still another interesting sight is the Indian children out playing in the snow attired in real Indian costume and with toy tomahawks.—Sault Ste. Marie correspondence Kansas City Star.

He Didn't Know Adam.

In his latest installment of his autobiography in the Cornhill Bob Lucy refers, among other things, to his connection with Sir F. Burnand and the Punch staff. On one occasion Mr. Lucy and Sir Francis were talking in the crowded assembly at the foreign office on one of the queen's birthday nights. A guest in uniform, starred and medaled, came up and effusively shook hands with Burnand, whose reception betrayed some embarrassment. Observing this the newcomer said: "I see you don't know me from Adam."

"My dear sir," said Burnand, "I didn't know Adam."—London Tit-Bits.

KILLS MAN WITH HIS WIFE

Mississippi Farmer Telephones Sheriff After Tragedy.

Maben, Miss., June 16.—General Worsham, a farmer living twelve miles from here in Choctaw county, had occasion to visit a sick neighbor Monday night. Upon his return home he found Lee Phillips, a wealthy merchant of Eupora, there.

"Don't come in here," said Phillips, standing in the door.

"This is my house, and I am going to protect it," replied Worsham, shoving Phillips back into the house.

Worsham seized his shotgun and fired. Part of the load entered a mattress and some struck Mrs. Worsham in the face. The next load penetrated Phillips' abdomen, killing him. The latter was not armed.

Worsham, after the tragedy, walked to a telephone and called the sheriff. Phillips was the wealthiest and most prominent man in the county.

Learn to Plan Homes.

Two years ago the University of St. Petersburg decided that women might attend the lectures, as it seemed probable that this course could not contain anything that could make politicians of the students. Recently there has been an exhibition of the work of the architectural students, and experts who saw it were surprised to find that the work of the women students compares so favorably with that of the men. In the work of planning homes especially the women were most original in their ideas, and carried out details that would, as a general thing, have been beyond the men students. It is predicted that especially in home architecture the women will make a success of their work.

MRS. WELLMAN DENIES FLIGHT

Declares Daughter Did Not Run Away to Be Actress.

Washington, June 16.—"There is absolutely no truth in the story that my daughter Rita ran away from home to go on the stage, disappeared or ran away from home at all," indignantly declared Mrs. Walter Wellman, wife of the newspaper correspondent and Arctic explorer, yesterday when shown clippings from out-of-town newspapers detailing her supposed search for her daughter in Philadelphia.

"My daughter is in Philadelphia visiting friends. She is just recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever. We thought the change would be beneficial to her. She left here with my full knowledge and consent and has been in constant communication with me since she has been away."

The story now denied asserted that Miss Rita Wellman called on the manager of a Philadelphia theater and was engaged. At the theater it was said that Miss Wellman had been engaged for a week.

Indian Runs Down Wolves.

Charley Taylor, a halfbreed Indian living at Colon Springs, a small town near Superior, is in the wolf hunting business for the bounty there is in it and catches the wolves by running them down. He hit the hot trail of one of the timber beasts February 19 and overtook the exhausted animal on February 22. He killed it with a stout club, which he carries when "hunting."

Taylor says that there is nothing remarkable about hunting wolves in this manner. With snowshoes a man can run down a wolf, whose pace is slower in snow, in from one and a half to two days, but Taylor was without snowshoes. All one needs is endurance, patience and the ability to follow the trail of the wolf after dark The Indians usually hunt in pairs.—Superior correspondence, St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Chance for Students of Fevers.

The Mexican Academy of Medicine has appropriated $25,000 for the purpose of discovering the cause of typhus, and to develop a cure for the fever. Of the amount $10,000 will be awarded to the person or persons discovering the cure. A like amount will be given to the person or persons discovering a serum which will kill the typhus germ in the blood. In the event of any one person solving both problems an effort will be made to have the government give a proper reward. Five thousand dollars will be distributed among the persons who have most efficiently helped in solving the problem.

Sets Law of Kitchen.

A "law of the kitchen" has been set forth in England in an opinion by a county judge. He holds that where the mistress of a house goes to the kitchen to aid the maid of all work the two are brought on terms of equality such as would not be tolerated in larger establishments. The case was that of a cook and general maid who sought to recover a month's wages from her former mistress in lieu of notice. The mistress asserted that the servant always "answered her back," but the judge held that under the circumstances this was not sufficient to justify dismissal.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY A SUICIDE

Carries Out Threat to Kill Self If Punished for Prank.

Owensboro, Ky., June 16.—"Mamma, if you whip me I will jump in the well," declared the 5-year-old son of Mrs. Samuel Scott, who resides near Central City, yesterday, when his mother reprimanded him for a childish prank. The mother administered the promised spanking.

Sobbing and crying, the little fellow fled from the room. In a few seconds the mother was startled by a scream. She rushed to the yard, but did not see him.

Remembering his threat, she went to the well. She could see him floating on the water. The body was recovered and she swooned.

There was a gash on the boy's head, which struck the side of the well. His neck was broken.

Low-priced things are not always cheap. Low prices are sometimes dearly bought. There is such a thing as "extravagant economy"—which means saving on the price at the cost of quality. We sell good, wholesome qualities in all our manufactured food products just as low as it is possible to sell them. We won't sell the other kind at any price. Foods that come directly out of the ground can be pretty accurately judged by any house-wife. But the hands of man get a chance to adulterate and deceive in manufactured goods, and in these you must depend upon us to select for you. We devote our entire time to the grocery business, and not here today and off tomorrow. If you think of making a change or starting to house-keeping, give us a trial.

JUDGE JOHN F. PHILIPS PASSED SENTENCE ON PROMINENT LAWYER.

The Notorious Boatright Foot Race Swindle Is Recalled in a Suit in Joplin—Defense Is Scored by Court.

Joplin, Mo., June 16.—George R. Clay, chairman of the city democratic committee, and one of the best known lawyers in Southwest Missouri, was sentenced by Federal Judge John F. Philips last afternoon to ten months in jail in Henry county for contempt of court.

The sentence is to be commuted provided Clay turns over to the court certain property valued at about $15,000 secured from Robert Boatright after Boatright had been declared bankrupt at the instigation of a number of people who had been his victims in his fake foot race game. Clay will appeal the case.

Boatright swindled various persons out of about a quarter of a million dollars, his chief operations being conducted in Webb City, Mo. Clay's wife, Mrs. Cora Clay, also is charged with contempt, but her sentence has not been pronounced.

The creditors of Boatright after his death brought suit against Clay, claiming he had possession of $30,000 secured from Boatright. Judgment for $24,500 was returned. An appeal was taken by Clay and the case was affirmed, judgment being fixed at $15,000. Clay was ordered to produce this sum in court. He challenged the authority of the court, and a petition asking that he be held in contempt was filed. Judge Philips' decision was scathing.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

National Stock Yards, Ill., June 15.—Cattle receipts 5,500; all good to choice killers strong to a shade higher, other kinds fully steady. We sold one load of choice 1,532-lb steers at $7.15, which represents top and the highest price paid for a full load in several months. There were no cattle sold out of these at a lower price in order to mark the tops up, but on the contrary all the steers received in the consignment brought that figure. Most of the good to choice steers are selling between $6.50 and $7.00, and that includes yearlings; medium steers, $5.50 to $6.25. Good to choice heifers, $3.50 to $6.50; prime up to $7.00; medium heifers, $4.25 to $5.25. Good to choice cows, $5.00 to $5.50; medium, $4.00 to $4.75. Stockers and feeders, milkers and veal calves fully steady, top for the latter, $7.75. Demands for eastern shipment have been better than usual this week. Outlook steady on all kinds next few days, although prospects point to lower prices for the fair to medium kinds, in the near future, and a steady to strong market for choice grades for another thirty to sixty days.

Hogs receipts 10,000; market 5 to 10c higher than yesterday. All buyers were in the market early, shippers buying most of the good heavies at $7.85 to $8.00; mixed and butcher hogs at $7.60 to $7.80; packers also paid stronger prices, the bulk of the packing hogs selling at $7.40 to $7.80. Good pigs, $6.75 to $7.10; light pigs, $5.50 to $6.25. Clearance good; outlook good on the good kinds. There is room for improvement in the quality of the hogs now coming, and today's market would have justified a higher top than $8.00 for prime hogs.

Sheep receipts 5,000; good lambs and good light and handy-weight sheep strong to a shade higher. Top native spring lambs, $9.00. Top mutton sheep, $5.50. The bulk of the good sheep sold at $5.10 to $5.35. Heavyweight sheep slowest sellers. Choice clipped lambs, $7.75 to $8.00. HE SUICIDED ON SUNDAY

JOSEPH H. BYRNE ENDED HIS EXISTENCE WITH CARBOLIC ACID AT HIS HOME.

WAS OUT OF WORK, HENCE DESPONDENT

Coroner Morley Held an Inquest at Undertaking Rooms of McLaughlin Bros.— Leaves Widow and Five Children.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Joseph H. Byrne, a former Missouri Pacific shopman, committed suicide by drinking the contents of an ounce bottle of carbolic acid at his home, 421 East Jackson street, at 10 o'clock Sunday forenoon. Six years ago he attempted self-destruction by cutting his throat, but inflicted only a slight wound.

Mr. Byrne was despondent yesterday because he had been discharged on account of drinking.

He was sitting on the rear porch at his home shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday morning. His wife left the house and went into the garden. She returned twenty minutes later and found her husband dead. An empty bottle, labeled carbolic acid, was found lying by the side of the body.

Dr. F. R. Morley, coroner, was summoned and held an inquest at McLaughlin's undertaking establishment at 9 o'clock this morning. The jury's verdict was suicide by drinking carbolic acid.

The following composed the jury: David Kinsey, William Kahrs, Charles Wentzleman, E. T. Donohue, H. A. Daniels and F F. Hugelman.

Witnesses examined were: Mrs. Byrne, the widow; Officer Howard Wood, Norville Lane, George Dozier and Gertrude Jones.

Mr. Byrne was 45 years old and belonged to St. Patrick's church. Two weeks ago he lost his position after a continued period of drinking. Since that time he had been melancholy.

Besides the widow, five children survive. Deceased also leaves five brothers and three sisters, as follows: John and Frank Byrne, residing in the state of California; Matthew, Steve and Will Byrne, farmers living north of Sedalia; Mrs. Thomas Scally, Miss Lizzie Byrne, both of this county, and Mrs. Martha Banke, residing in California.

HAD A SPLENDID PROGRAM

Sunday Was a Great Day at Broadway Presbyterian Church.

Sunday was a great day at the Broadway Presbyterian church, of which the Rev. Dudley M. Clagett is pastor.

At the 11 o'clock service the father of the pastor, Rev. W. H. Clagett, D. D., of Philadelphia, preached a strong sermon, and baptized the infant son of the pastor, John Robertson Clagett. The house was crowded and the lecture room was also utilized.

At 7:30 p. m. the children's exercises were held, and every foot of available space was occupied.

The program was one of rare excellence, and consisted of songs, recitations, etc. Ten children were graduated from the primary department, and were presented with Bibles and diplomas.

Tonight at 8 o'clock Dr. W. H. Clagett will give an illustrated stereopticon lecture on "The Martyr Graves of Scotland," the material for which he gathered during a year's travel and study in Great Britain. Admission will be free and the public is invited.

BURIAL OF MR. M. F. QUINN

REV. FR. CHRISTAN DANIEL OFFICIATED AT SACRED HEART CHURCH.

WAS FILLED WITH SORROWING FRIENDS

Interment Was in the Catholic Cemetery, Where Prayers for the Repose of the Soul of Deceased Were Said.

(From Monday's Daily.)

An unusually large concourse of sorrowing friends assembled at Sacred Heart Catholic church at 9 o'clock this morning to pay a last homage of respect to the memory of M. F. Quinn, whose sudden demise Saturday morning was chronicled in yesterday's Democrat-Sentinel.

Hundreds of persons whose friendship he possessed during life filled every pew in the commodious edifice, and frequently during the ceremony tears fell from the eyes of many.

The Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel, assistant pastor, officiated at requiem mass. The music was in charge of the choir. The divine's eulogy was touching in the extreme, and elicited the undivided attention of every auditor.

After the services at the church the remains were conveyed to the Catholic cemetery, where brief prayers were uttered for the repose of the deceased's soul, after which interment was made.

The pallbearers were L. F. Ritchie, Edward Donnelly, Joseph Moffat, John L. Sullivan, Foster Games and Emmett Hurley.

The casket bearing the body of the dead was completely covered with floral offerings, silent tokens of respect, and furnished a slight attestation of the esteem in which the departed was held in the community where he had grown from a babe to manhood.

William and Joseph Quinn, brothers of the deceased, who were traveling in Pennsylvania for a St. Louis shoe house, arrived here at 1:30 o'clock this morning to attend the funeral.

CHURCH BUYS PROPERTY

Dining Hall at State Fair Grounds Changes Hands.

The East Broadway Christian church has closed a deal with the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church of this city for the First church pavilion at the state fair grounds.

The Ladies Aid society of the East Broadway congregation will, in behalf of that church, serve meals this year at the state fair.

The First Christian church has shown such brotherly kindness and affection for the East Broadway church that it will long be remembered and appreciated by them, as the proposition agreed upon was much less than other offers for the same property.

"CUBS" WON FROM LAMONTE

"Buck" Agee Will Have to Strengthen His Aggregation.

The Sedalia Cubs baseball team defeated the Lamonte baseball team at Liberty park Sunday. The score was 7 to 2.

Gunder, of Smithton, was on the firing line for Lamonte, in the absence of the regular twirler, and Calhoun caught. Duvenick and Wilkinson formed Sedalia's battery.

The game was short of features, although it proved an interesting exhibition and a fair-sized crowd attended.

HELD AT THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HALL

Conductor V. S. Stone Officiated as Master of Ceremonies—Similar Services Will Be Held Annually in Future.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Two hundred members of Queen City division No. 60, Order of Railway Conductors, and Prairie Queen lodge No. 18, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmer, and their auxiliaries, met at the Knights of Pythias hall, on East Fifth street, Sunday afternoon, to hold joint memorial services.

V. S. Stone presided as master of ceremonies and opened the program with the following appropriate remarks:

"The chief executives of our orders have set apart this day as our Memorial day. A majority of the lodges and divisions, with their auxiliaries, comprising our orders, situated in the United States, Canada, Old and New Mexico, are today paying tribute to the memories of our brothers and sisters whom death has called from our midst. We will now begin our memorial services."

The program opened with Scriptural reading by Mrs. Lydia Phelan.

The second number was a prayer by Mrs. Hulda Phelan, followed by C. E. Whitney's reading of the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The foregoing verses were then sung in concert.

Mr. Whitney then delivered an interesting address, followed by the following eulogies by those mentioned:

C. P. Hall on death of M. V. Burnap.

H.A. Pratt on death of A. F. Hirschberger.

V. S. Stone on death of Levi McVey.

The remainder of the program was as follows:

Solo—Mrs. J. J. Bertche.

Eulogies on deaths of Sisters Cromley, Cunningham and Phalings, by Mrs. J. C. Hunter.

Eulogy on deaths of Brothers Miller, Chettle and McCabe, by W. J. Thelen.

Hymn, "Till We Meet Again," in concert.

Prayer by Walter Reynolds.

This was the first joint memorial held by the two orders. It was so satisfactory in every particular that joint services will be held each year in future.

HELD A JOINT MEMORIAL

RUSSELL CAMP, M. W. A., AND VIOLET CAMP OF ROYAL NEIGHBORS.

LARGE ATTENDANCE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Graves of Deceased Members Were Decorated During the Forenoon—Principal Address by Rev. J. J. Setliff.

(From Monday's Daily.)

More than one hundred members of Russell camp No. 2065, Modern Woodmen of America, and Violet camp No. 670, Royal Neighbors, took part in the procession from the lodge hall to Crown Hill cemetery Sunday afternoon to assist in the annual celebration of Memorial day.

The lodge members assembled at the hall, Third and Lamine avenue, at 1:45 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later, preceded by the Second Regiment band, they marched north to Second street, thence west to Ohio avenue, south to Fifth street, thence east to engineer avenue, thence to the cemetery.

The Rev. J. J. Setliff delivered the memorial address and it was one of the most interesting ever heard on a similar occasion. Edward Zoellig, consul of Russell camp, also spoke.

A unique feature of the ceremonies was the return march of the members to the lodge hall from the cemetery, following the rendition of the program.

Instead of disbanding at the cemetery, as is the usual custom, all who had taken part in the procession marched back to the lodge hall.

Noah Shear was chairman of the committee from Russell camp to decorate the graves of deceased members, while Mrs. Herman Klink was chairman of the Violet camp committee.

The two committees did their work Sunday forenoon.

BROTHER OF J. W. GROSS

HAS MADE RECORD AS HUNTER IN THE GREAT NORTHWESTERN COUNTRY.

FIERCE BATTLE WITH A MOUNTAIN LION

Hand to Hand Encounter With Wounded Beast, as the Animal Pounced Upon Mr. Gross From an Overhanging Rock.

A brother of John W. Gross, of the Guenther dry goods store, who has frequently visited in Sedalia, is written of as follows in the Tacoma, Wash., Tribune:

"Walter Gross, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company office, and Joe Latshaw are packing up their sagebrush togs for an invasion of the Big Bend country, Sunday night. They will go to Othello and start for the wilds of Moses lake.

"No cortege of native claquers will go into the brush to drive out the tame lions for them, but they expect to bring back an assortment of game that will make a certain noted magazine writer look like a picture-book hunter.

"Edwards Brothers, the furriers and taxidermists, have in their establishment three of the trophies brought back from the wilds of Moses lake by Walter Gross, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, on his recent hunting trip.

"The noted white-maned mountain lion that has terrorized the country for years, and which Mr. Gross killed in a hand to hand encounter after he had wounded the infuriated beast, as it was pouncing upon him from an overhanging rock, is to be mounted and will adorn the steamship office.

"The two gaunt and fierce-looking grey wolves he is sending east to his old home, trophies of his prowess as a hunter. The skin of the big black bear, claws, teeth and all, will be made into a library rug."

Commenting on the above, the Sweet Springs Herald has the following:

"Walter Gross is the son of J. J. Gross and wife, of this city, and will be remembered by many of our readers. His prowess as a hunter is attracting attention even among those who are used to the wilds of the mountains, and even Theodore Roosevelt, the mighty hunter, should guard well his laurels when Walter takes to the sage brush with his 30-30 in hand.

MORSE ASKS NEW TRIAL

FORMER NEW YORK BANKER WHO WAS CONVICTED OF ILLEGAL PRACTICES.

WAS SENTENCED TO 15 YEARS IN PRISON

Twenty-Eight Men of Wealth and Standing Will Become Responsible for Bail Bond in the Sum of $5,000 Each.

New York, June 14.—Argument for appeal in the case of Charles W Morse, the ex-banker, convicted of illegal practices and sentenced to fifteen years in the federal prison at Atlanta, is set for today, when the question of bail will also be decided.

Attorneys for the prosecution are prepared to make an energetic fight against granting a new trial or the admission of the "wealthy malefactor" to bail. Martin W. Littleton is counsel for Morse, and for the past several weeks has spent much of his time with his client in the Tombs.

Should the opinion of the court be favorable to Morse there will be no difficulty in securing bondsmen.

Twenty-eight wealthy men of high standing in New York financial circles have signed the following petition to the court:

"We, the undersigned, believing in the innocence of Charles W. Morse of any intent to defraud the Bank of North America, or to deceive the government officials, are willing to become responsible upon his bail bond for the sum of $5,000 each, without indemnity.

"We do this because we do not believe he will leave the jurisdiction of the court, and that when the case is finally heard and understood he will be acquitted."

THE STARS WERE DEFEATED

Cole Camp Ball Club Too Much for the Sedalia Boys.

Frank Helsley's Star Grocery baseball team crossed bats with the Cole Camp team on the latter's grounds Sunday afternoon, meeting defeat by the score of 10 to 0.

Hugh Harvey, the electrical twirler, whose ins and outs have been a mystery to all famous club swingers in this territory, was on the firing line for Sedalia, but gave way to Bohon in the fifth inning, the latter finishing the game.

Continued applications of slippery elm to the sphere is attributed by Sedalia as the cause of their defeat, they alleging that Cole Camp's pitcher used this "mixture" to accomplish his purpose, deterring Sedalia batters from knocking the ball out of the infield.

THREE NEGROES BROKE JAIL

One of the Trio Returned, but Other Two Still at Large.

(From Monday's Daily.)

Three negroes charged with burglary, one from St. Louis and the other two from Kansas City, made their escape from the Moniteau county jail at California, Mo., last night at 9 o'clock.

They were in the corridor and removed enough brick in the wall to enable them to crawl out into the open.

Later in the night one of the trio crawled through the hole back into the bastile, and asserted to the sheriff that he had never attempted to escape—denied, in fact, that he had been outside of the building.

A telephone message to the Democrat-Sentinel this afternoon stated that there was no clue to the whereabouts of the two fugiives.

A TEMPER IS HER RIGHT

JUDGE SHELTON, OF MACON, MO., SAYS EVERY WOMAN IS DUE SOME SPIRIT.

THIS HUBBY IS ENTIRELY TOO SELFISH

Jurist, Who Admires Unwritten Law, Declines to Divorce Quarreling Couple—Commands Them to Get Together.

Macon, Mo., June 14.—"A woman has a right to be high-tempered, and her husband ought to be man enough to yield her that privilege," remarked Circuit Judge N. M. Shelton to a young man who asks divorce on the grounds that the wife is of irascible disposition.

The evidence showed that they have four small children and that the wife did all the work for the house and children. She was a comely woman of about 30, but her smooth face was beginning to bear the marks of toil.

"I will not for a moment entertain the idea of divorce between you people. You must go back home and make up. There is nothing in the world in your case to found a divorce upon.

"What if the wife does fly all to pieces and say mean things? Most good women have some spirit, and they can't hep showing it once in a while. A wife has just as much right to possess a temper as her husband has, and the husband's duty is to indulge her when she wants to express herself.

"This young woman, the evidence shows, does the entire work for the family and does it well. Her work about the house is just as important as her husband's work in the field. She raises the family; he looks after the crops and gathers in the money.

"Marriage is a reciprocity contract. The husband, because he is stronger, has no right to lay down any more rules for his wife to follow than he follows himself. Nine times out of ten the wife gets angry because her husband has imposed upon her.

"If you would throw your arms around your wife and kiss her once in a while, when she has been working hard and is red in the face from cooking for you and the children, perhaps you wouldn't find her so high tempered as you think she is."

Judge Shelton is a jurist of the old school and has some notions that run counter to modern thought. He is a thorough believer in what is called the "unwritten law," the right to immediately call to account the transgressor against women.

"There are a few bad women," remarked the judge on one occasion, "but nearly all those who have gone wrong owe their condition to some man.

"Woman is inherently honest and truthful, and in her superiority in those qualities lies the safety of the race."

TORE HIS SKIN OFF IN SHREDS

Itching was Intense—Humor Spread from Hands to Body—Work Interrupted and Sleep Often Impossible—Disease Resisted Treatment

BUT CUTICURA CURED HIM IN THREE WEEKS

"My trouble commenced about two years ago and consisted, at first, of an eruption of small pustules on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body, and the itching at times was intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off in shreds in seeking relief. The awful itching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me awake nights. I tried several doctors and used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I settled down to the use of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks' time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Krutskoff, 5714 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 28, 1907."

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES

MIKE QUINN, POPULAR MERCHANT, PASSED AWAY EARLY SATURDAY MORNING.

RESULT OF ACCIDENT MONDAY NIGHT

After Lingering on Bed of Pain for Four Days Nature Succumbed—Funeral From Sacred Heart Church Monday Morning.

(From Sunday's Daily)

M. F. Quinn, known by all as "Mike" Quinn, died from a hemorrhage of the brain at the home of his widowed mother, Mrs. Bridget Quinn, 724 West Fourth street, at 1:15 o'clock Saturday morning.

With him when he died were his mother, brothers and sisters, except two brothers, together with the physician and parish priest.

Death was the direct result of a runaway accident which occurred last Monday night. He remained unconscious up to Saturday morning, when he was fully restored to his senses. He spoke to all members of the family, conversed about his brothers and sisters and the business and remained perfectly conscious up to within thirty minutes of his demise.

Mr. Quinn was in the full bloom of young manhood, was endowed with signal business ability, and was recognized as one of Sedalia's most promising young men. In business he had no superior, as a son he was dutiful and respectful, while as a brother he was all that affection could ask. As a friend he was true to death. He had no enemies, because he did nothing to make an enemy, and when the news of his sudden departure from this world to the unknown mystery beyond became circulated Saturday every one spoke a kind word in his memory.

Mr. Quinn was a member of the firm of Quinn Bros., shoe dealers, which he with his brother, J. P. Quinn, founded five years ago. For eight years prior to that time he had been employed as a shoe clerk for various merchants in the city.

He was born at Dumpville Mo., July 5, 1882. He was reared and educated in Sedalia and was known by almost every one in the city. Last Monday night he was thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident and received injuries which resulted fatally.

Mr. Quinn was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic church. He also belonged to Sedalia council No. 831, Knights of Columbus, Sedalia aerie No. 601, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and held membership in the Knights and Ladies of Security.

Besides his mother, he leaves the following brothers and sisters: James, John, William, Joseph, Cornelius and Francis and Mary and Johanna.

William and Joseph are employed by a St. Louis shoe company and were traveling in Pennsylvania at the time of his death. The former was located at Pittsburg and the latter at Clearfield. Both will arrive home this afternoon to attend the funeral, which will be conducted by the Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel at Sacred Heart Catholic church at 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

The following will be pall bearers: Matt McEniry, John L. Sullivan, Joseph Moffatt, Foster Games, Edward Donnelly and L. F. Ritchie.

BARTENDER CAN CLEAN UP

Rigid Rule Against Saloons Amended by Board.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—Two weeks ago the board of police commissioners decided that if a man was caught in a saloon between 12 o'clock Saturday night and 12 o'clock Sunday night it would be direct evidence that the Sunday closing law was violated.

Yesterday the board, on a motion of Commissioner Middlebrook, amended the rule.

In the future the bartender will be allowed to enter the saloon between 6:30 o'clock and 8 o'clock Sunday night to sweep, light the gas, and put the liquor on ice.

The amendment was the direct result of the complaints of the better class of saloon men, who claimed that it was impossible to conform to such a rule.

A MONSTER BLOODHOUND

Traced Thief Who Stole His Friend and Landed Him.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 12.—Mike, a monster bloodhound, pal of a $500 Boston bulldog, inscribed his name on the roll of honor of the Pittsburg police department yesterday when he ran down a thief who stole the bull, recovered his pal and landed Mike Mitchessen, the alleged thief, in jail.

The bull disappeared some time since, and yesterday, Peter Lafferty, owner of both dogs, brought Mike from his home at Sharleroi to look about the town.

Mike soon found his bull pal in a stable on Dwyer street, where he had been sold for $4, and Mike then took up the trail of the thief after sniffing the scene of his friend the bulldog.

It took him two hours to find Michessen in a stable, who, when caught, confessed he had stolen the bulldog.

Hatfield's assassination is believed to be an incident of a local feud which has raged in that neighborhood and which has been accompanied by whippings and further shootings in true whitecap style.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 12.—Writing to a well known sporting editor in reference to Jeffries' bout with Sam Berger, June 15, Jack Johnson, the colored world champion, says:

"I know very well Jeffries is training for me on the quiet. As for myself—well, take it from me, I don't intend to be caught napping on the question of physical condition. I've an offer of a purse of $50,000 to fight Jeffries in December and I think it would be to our mutual benefit to accept. However, I intend to have some sort of an understanding with the boilermaker before I leave Pittsburg."

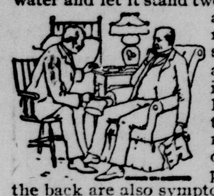
Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

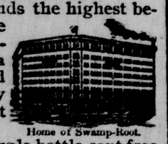
How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.



What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.



Home of Swamp-Root.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

IS A HIVE OF INDUSTRY

THE BRICK PLANT IS RAPIDLY GETTING INTO GOOD SHAPE.

MACHINERY INSTALLED, THE VERY BEST

Brick for the Permanent Buildings Being Burned and Soon Everything Will Be Completed—How Brick Are Made.

(From Sunday's Daily)

Every Sedalian who is interested in the city's progress should visit the brick plant and see what the Messrs. Mecusker, father and son, are doing to establish a business that will unquestioably be one of the chief local industrial enterprises within a very few months. Indeed, as far as that is concerned, it is already a center of busy industry, employing many men and each day enlarging its activities and increasing its force, with an energy and vim very gratifying to those who from the first contended for the establishment of the enterprise here.

A Democrat-Sentinel representative visited the plant Saturday and was more than surprised at what he saw. Before one reaches the scene of activity, viewing the cluster of temporary buildings from a distance, one is not much impressed, but upon arrival in the yards one's eyes begin to open, and as different portions of the machinery and adjuncts are observed the wonder grows that in so short a time so much should have been accomplished. The structures are all temporary and are of rough lumber, as the permanent buildings are to be constructed of the plant's own product—brick—of which 100,000 are now being burnt, another 100,000 being almost ready for the fire.

In spite, however, of the buildings being makeshifts only, the best machinery has been installed, every piece being the latest pattern and model, capable of performing the work not only quickly, but economically. The engine, already at work, is as near perfect as it is possible to be made, and is of eighty horsepower, and can be developed to 100. One boiler has been erected and another is only awaiting the construction of the permanent boiler room, which will be 35x90 feet.

One grinding machine and cutting table is in operation, and both are marvels of mechanical ingenuity, and must be seen to be fully appreciated. The grinder takes the clay fresh from the pit and with a few revolutions of its internal works turns it out soft and pliant onto the cutting table in a continuous oblong solid piece, which is automatically cut into the proper size and delivered ready for the kiln by one operation. There is no molding, no hand work, nothing of the old fashioned way of brick making from the beginning to the end of the operation. To watch the machine work is not only interesting, but extremely fascinating. In getting the clay from the pit to the grinder Mr. Mecusker has hit upon a most novel and ingenious plan, and one, too, that saves a tremendous amount of labor.

He has had constructed an endless belt, very wide, which extends from the grinder down into the pit. This belt runs by power and the diggers dump the clay upon it and it is conveyed up to the hopper of the grinder where it empties. By keeping the belt constantly loaded the grinder is kept supplied, which in turn keeps the cutter busy, there being no waits, no loss of time, no idle hands.

Everything even now, works like a clock, there being no hitches, which is saying much, for when the plant commenced operation there was not an experienced man on the job, except the two Messrs. Mecusker. Everyone had to be taught, and yet they all seem to know just what to do and how and when to do it. So much for system and capable instructors.

After seeing what is being done now and closely noting the forward moves toward building the permanent buildings, the boiler house, engine room, dry kilns, the Missouri Pacific spur already in and the hundreds of other things that are being planned, it can safely be said that the Sedalia Clay Manufacturing Co. will soon have an industry here second to none in the entire community, and one which will without question add tremendously to the progress and upbuilding of the entire city.

THE MAYWOOD HOSPITAL

AN INSTITUTION OF WHICH EVERY CITIZEN OF SEDALIA SHOULD BE PROUD.

IMPROVEMENTS THAT HAVE BEEN MADE

To Be Hoped That an Understanding Will Be Reached So That the Institution Will Be Open to All Physicians.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Of all the institutions that are a credit to Sedalia not one is worthy of warmer commendation than Maywood hospital.

The Maywod, as it stood before the fire, was a sanitarium of which the owner, Dr. E. A. Wood, might well feel proud. While its arrangement were not all that could be desired, yet the service and management were most excellent. So much for the old hospital.

Dr. Wood, from experience acquired in the old structure, has made many changes, and the building as it now stands is as complete as any small hospital in the country, it being able to accommodate about twenty patients.

The improvements are an elevator running from the first to third floor, thus keeping the sick and injured from walking or being carried up stairs.

The third floor, formerly utilized as a ward on the west side and apartments for the nurses on the east, has been entirely changed. The operating rooms that previously were on the second floor have been moved to the third floor, where there are also minor and major operating rooms, a sterilizing room and the doctors' consultation room. The east side is still occupied by the nurses.

The old operating rooms are used now for store rooms and patients' rooms.

The old bath room has been abandoned and converted into a small apartment which opens off of a larger one on the second floor, thus making two large separate rooms, and two new bath rooms have been installed.

The electrical massage room and the violet ray bath are the same as in the old building, but are worthy of mention, as they have given relief to many who have been treated therein.

The purpose of the violet ray is to cause the perspiration to flow freely, the action being the same as the sun's rays. The violet ray is nearer that of the sun than any other known.

New floors have been put in throughout and the walls are all done in white.

The annex that was built some years ago as a residence for Dr and Mrs. Wood has been vacated by them and will be occupied in the near future as offices for those doctors interested in the hospital and whose patients are treated there, namely: Drs. Cord Bohling, H. B. Cole, A. J. Campbell, George E. and Charles McNeil and Dr. Wood.

The hospital has been well filled since its opening, and Dr. Wood informed a representative of the Democrat-Sentinel that patients are now waiting for admittance.

The Democrat-Sentinel recognizes that Maywood hospital is an institution greatly needed in Sedalia, and it is to be regretted that all who need it cannot have access to the institution.

STABS SHERIFF ON GALLOWS

As Black Cap Is Being Adjusted Prisoner Attempts to Escape.

Floresville, Tex., June 12.—Refugio Jaureque, sentenced to death for criminally assaulting Alvina Olenik, aged 15, a Bohemian girl, at Sutherland Springs last July, fatally stabbed Sheriff Wright here yesterday when the sheriff started to fix the black cap on Jaureque to hang him.

Jaureque plunged a sharpened spoon handle into his executioner just above the heart, and attempted to escape. He was seized by a deputy sheriff, dragged back to the scaffold and unceremoniously hanged without a black cap. It is not known how he secured the sharpened spoon handle.

HAD NOT PAID THEIR DUES

And in Consequence Telephone Service Was Cut Off.

The telephone business in this locality has been "up in the air" this week, in more ways than one, says the Green Ridge Local News.

Parties on country lines, as well as some in town, awoke Monday to the fact that they were "cut off." This condition was caused by some of the parties not having paid their dues, and the company took the above means to collect; but the man who had paid could not see why his service had been discontinued because his neighbor failed to pay.

A great deal of talk was necessary to explain matters to irate subscribers, but so far as we can learn the atmosphere is reasonably clear at this time, although some parties threaten to transfer their business to the Bell company.

Two Men in Minnesota Claim to Have Invented Successful Machine.

Hearst News Service.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—Working in the strictest secrecy in a windowless cement shop located at a lonely point in the woods near here, J. Stewart, a retired railroad engineer, and S. Brownell, a farmer, have invented an aeroplane, which, when perfected in all its parts, promises to rival the invention which has made the Wright brothers, of Dayton, O., famous.

The machine will be entered at the trials for the heavier than air flying machines at Fort Meyer, Washington, D. C., in October.

Mr. Duvenick will pitch his last game for the Sedalia Cubs against the Lamonte team Sunday. He has signed a contract with Warsaw and will finish the season here.

ALDRICH SCORED A POINT

Says Attempt to Revise Tariff Upward Not Justified.

Associated Press.

Washington, June 12.—When the free list was again taken up by the senate today the usual order was reversed when Mr. Nelson led an effort on the part of some of the "progressive" republicans for a duty on sage flour, which is now on the free list, and which, he declared, comes into competition with starch made from potatoes and corn.

"This attempt to revise the tariff upward is not justified," said Mr. Aldrich, adding that he believed there was a combination in the starch industry.

THE "BELL" BRANCHING OUT

Manager Shields R. Smith Reports Business Booming.

Shields R. Smith, local manager of the Bell Telephone Co., reports the completion of the telephone line to Hughesville, the following now being subscribers to the Sedalia exchange: David Bouldin, C. W. McAninch, N. P. Nelson, T. S. Abshear, Wm. Lewis, Wm. Leischer, Joe Elliott, T. H. Callies and B. F. Neal.

Within a short time the Bell company will have another line into this neighborhood, which will serve Emmet Bouldin, Ed Whitmeyer and others in that immediate vicinity.

The Bell people are contemplating lines southeast of Sedalia which are to serve some twenty subscribers within that neighborhood.

Associated Press.

Ponta del Gada, Azores Island, June 12.—Wireless telegraphy played a prominent part in saving the passengers and crew of the Cunarder Slavonia which today is a total wreck two miles southwest of Flores island.

The wireless feat of the steamer Republic was equalled, if not excelled. The Princess Irene was 180 miles away when the thrilling call, "C. Q. D.," was picked up.

The operator on the Irene quickly learned the location of the stricken vessel, and hastened at full speed to the rescue. Every soul on board the Slavonia was saved.

S.S.S.

OLDEST AND BEST BLOOD PURIFIER

We have never claimed that S. S. S. was a medicine to work wonders, nor one that would cure every physical ailment or disorder. More than forty years ago it was placed on the market and recommended as a blood purifier, and today, after a long and successful career, and when its use has become almost universal, only the same honest claim is made for it—that it is a cure for those diseases and disorders arising from an impure or polluted blood. Time makes no mistakes, and the very best recommendation of S. S. S. is the fact that it has stood a long test and is now more generally used, and has the confidence of a greater number of people than any other blood medicine.

The blood is the most vital force of life; every organ, nerve, muscle, tissue and sinew of the body is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and rich, it furnishes to these different members the healthful properties needed to preserve them and enable them to perform their various duties. So long as the blood remains free from infection we are apt to escape disease, but any impurity, humor or poison acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health.

Having used S. S. S. extensively I can testify to its merits as a blood purifier and tonic. It enriches, purifies and cleanses the blood of all impurities, and at the same time is a wonderful invigorator, tonic and system builder. It is also a fine remedy for Rheumatism. It is master of this very painful disease, and as a tonic to give appetite, strength to the nerves and build up the system it has no equal.

It is a very fine medicine indeed, and I have every confidence in it.

MRS. F. L. BAILEY.
709 Linden St., Clearfield, Pa.

Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes, and the various skin affections, show that the blood is in a feverish condition as a result of some humor, or the presence of an irritating, fiery acid. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the circulation, while Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula and Contagious Blood Poison, are all deep-seated blood disorders that will continue to grow worse as long as the cause remains. Bad blood may come from various causes, such as a sluggish condition of the system, imperfect bowel and kidney action, indigestion, etc., or the trouble may be inherited; but whatever the cause the blood must be purified before the body can be healthy.

S. S. S. is a natural blood purifier and tonic. It is made entirely of the harmless juices and extracts of roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative ability, and being free from all harmful minerals is an absolutely safe medicine for young or old. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and removes any and every trace of impurity, humor or poison. It freshens and enriches the blood and cures promptly and permanently Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood disorders. S.S.S. is the most reliable and at the same time a most pleasant acting medicine for those whose blood has become weak and who are suffering with Anaemia, Malaria or some other debilitating sickness.

A blood purifier is especially needed in the Spring to cleanse the circulation of the impurities which have accumulated during the shut-in life of Winter, and S. S. S. is the most reliable and certain of good results. Book on the blood and medical advice free. S.S.S. is for sale at all drug stores. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

FLAG DAY IS CELEBRATED

THE STARS AND STRIPES ARE FLOATING PROUDLY IN BREEZE TODAY.

OBSERVANCE MORE GENERAL THAN EVER

Origin of the Day Was On June 14, 1889, the Originator Being Geo. Bolch, In Charge of a Free Kindergarten.

Washington, June 14.—From every public building in the capital and from hundreds of private edifices the Stars and Stripes floated today to commemorate the 132d anniversary of the adoption of the flag by the continental congress.

Today's observance was more general than ever before, according to officials of the American Flag Day association.

President Taft gave his official endorsement to the purposes of the association, and the day was proclaimed a legal holiday by the governors of Illinois, Michigan, Connecticut, Wisconsin, California and Oregon.

In practically all the states and territories there was a less formal celebration of the day.

The first "flag day" in America was on June 14, 1777, when congress, sitting in Philadelphia, officially

"Resolved, That the flag of the thirteen United States shall be of thirteen stripes of alternate red and white; with a union of thirteen stars of white, in a blue field, representing the new constellation."

The congress appointed a committee on the flag, which reported in extenso:

"The stars of the flag represent a new constellation rising in the west. The idea is taken from the great constellation Lyra, which, in the hands of Orpheus, signifies harmony. The blue in the field is taken from the edge of the Covenanters' Banner, of Scotland, significant of the League Covenant of the United States against oppression. The stars are disposed in a circle symbolizing the perpetuity of the union, the ring signifying eternity. The thirteen stripes with the thirteen stars show the number of the united colonies and denote subordination of the states to the union, as well as equality among themselves. The red, the color which in the Roman days was a symbol of defiance, denotes daring, and the white, purity."

The resolution establishing the flag was not promulgated by the secretary of the congress until September 3, 1777. This flag was first carried in the battle of the Brandywine, September 11, 1777, and was borne in all of the subsequent encampments, marches, campaigns and battles of the War of the Revolution.

The origin of "Flag Day" was on June 14, 1889. The originator was George Bolch, who was in charge of a free kindergarten for the poor in New York City. The patriotic idea was conceived by this obscure educator, who put it into execution with his school of little ones; and the exercises attracted so much attention as to strike a popular chord. The newspapers took it up, and the state board of education adopted the idea unanimously.

The American Flag association was organized twelve years ago to promote reverence for and to prevent the desecration of the flag of our country. Its principal object is fulfilled in the annual flag day celebrations which are now becoming patriotically observed throughout the land.

Church Struck by Lightning.

Green Bay, Wis., June 14.—Lightning struck the steeple of Holy Cross Catholic church at Bay Settlement, eight miles from this city, Sunday morning, killing one man and shocked and injured sixteen others, two of whom may not survive, and partly wrecked the edifice. The bolt came while mass was being sung by Father C. Mickers.

CAVALRY OFFICER SHOT

A Tragedy Follows a Reprimand by Captain Raymond.

Des Moines, Ia., June 13.—Capt. John C. Raymond, of Troop B, Second United States cavalry, and member of one of the most prominent army families in the country, may die as a result of a wound sustaned n a shooting affray at Fort Des Mones yesterday.

Upon being reprimanded by Capt. Raymond for overstaying his leave of absence from the post, Corp. Lisle Crabtree drew a revolver and began firing at his commanding officer.

The first bullet went wild, the second struck Sergt. James H. Washburn, the third hit Capt. Raymond and the fourth found a victim in Corp. Elijah Such. The enraged trooper then turned the pistol on himself and fired the remaining bullet into his breast.

With the exception of Capt. Raymond, none of the four is dangerously injured. Immediately after the shooting Major Bratton, surgeon of the regiment, had the officer removed to Mercy hospital where an X-ray examination showed the bullet had entered the front of the neck and passed through, striking the backbone.

The body is completely paralyzed, from neck down, and slight hopes are entertained for his recovery. Even if the injured officer should live, it is probable he will be paralyzed for life. An operation will be performed to remove the bullet.

Little Hope for Captain.

Des Moines, Ia., June 14.—Little hope is held at the hospital here for the recovery of Capt. John Raymond, of Troop B, Second cavalry, stationed at Fort Des Moines, who was shot by Corporal Crabtree Sunday.

According to the surgeons, should he survive the operation he will be paralyzed for life.

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Remedy, especially for enlarged prostate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint."—Arlington Pharmacy.

FLEET IS READY TO SAIL

TO REASSEMBLE AT HAMPTON ROADS FOR THE SUMMER MANEUVERS.

GOES TO SEA ON THURSDAY OR FRIDAY

To Go to the Southern Drill Grounds for Exercises and Will Then Proceed to the Coast of New England.

Washington, June 14.—Reports received at the navy department today state that all the ships of the Atlantic fleet, which have been undergoing a thorough overhauling since their record-smashing tour of the world, are about ready to proceed to sea. Tomorrow is the date set on which the vessels at the various navy yards must be completed for service and proceed to Hampton Roads to reassemble for the summer maneuvers.

According to the program outlined at the navy department, the fleet will proceed to sea on Thursday or Friday, and any vessel late in arriving will join the rest of the command at sea, it being proposed not to delay the fleet at Hampton Roads.

The program contemplates anchoring generally for night on the southern drill grounds, partly for exercise in anchoring together and for elementary night exercise.

The fleet will return to Hampton Roads on June 24, and, after coaling will, about June 29, proceed to sea again for drills and maneuvers, arriving at ports along the New England coast on July 2.

There will be liberty for the crews between July 2 and 6, the fleet reassembling at Rockport, Mass., on July 7. The target practice will be held on July 12, 13 and 14, under conditions more severe than have ever before prevailed.

The subsequent period up to August 9 will be taken up with exercises at sea, going over the measured mile and in turning trials. A feature will also be made of topedo defense practice.

In the firing which takes place the ranges of the target, which will be moving, will not be known, and the guns will be fired while the ships are rolling, in order to present the most unusual and difficult conditions of attack, such as might exist during actual warfare.

Every Sunday during the summer will be given over to the encouragement of boating, fishing and swimming parties, in order that there may be at least much diversion for the crews.

On August 9 the ships will be on the southern drill grounds, when the regular record target practice will take place. This is for purposes of comparison and much interest attaches to the result.

The sixteen battleships of the Atlantic fleet will go from the navy yards, where they are now being overhauled and docked, tomorrow, radically changed in outward appearance. The vessels will practically be in a condition for action to a degree that has never before prevailed in the naval service in time of peace. These important changes are mainly the result of experience gained during the circumnavigating cruise of the fleet.

The most conspicuous change that the civilian observer will recognize is the color of the vessels. The hull, small boats, and, indeed, all of the exposed portions will be of a shade described as a dull gray, without the luster to reflect the sun or otherwise add to the prominence of the ships.

It is the color decided upon by the experts as least likely to attract attention and as possessing the greatest degree of invisibility. This idea has been carried out by the removal of the brass fittings, even to the door knobs, and includes the abandonment of the bow ornament and the gilt letters of the ship's name.

The removal of the bow ornaments is justified, not only as a means of taking from the ship a conspicuous feature, but as accomplishing a reduction in the weight carried by each vessel.

The policy is to reduce these weights so as to bring each vessel down to fighting trim, carrying only those things of practical value in an attack, which is considered before the factor of defense.

Electricity is being used to a greater extent than ever before, and much of the mechanism on board the ships is now being controlled in that way. This is especially so in the turning of the turrets, which can be regulated to a degree hitherto impossible, and with a nicety of movement that renders it possible to describe the complete arc of the turret at so deliberate a rate as to be imperceptible to the observer.

The searchlights have been taken from the positions they have hitherto occupied and hung on the skeleton masts. In the coming maneuvers it is proposed to ascertain if these positions are the most effective, and some twelve or fifteen of the torpedo boats will be used in exercises in conjunction with the big ships.

CHICKENS RUIN THE CORN

Nodaway Residents in Suit Provoke Humor of Court.

Maryville, Mo., June 14.—Because the defendants chickens, he claimed, scratched up three acres of his cornfield, D. F. Shupe, of near Maryville, sued J. N. Nunnelly, his neighbor, for $50 in Justice Warren L. Johnson's court here. Shupe was awarded a verdict for $20 damages. The case may be appealed to the supreme court.

Shupe said that he knew that they were Nunnelly's chickens for the reason that when he set his dogs on them they always retreated to Nunnelly's house.

There is no law restraining chickens on their owner's premises and this will be a ground for a test of the case. The trial of the case consumed half a day and was very humorous.

KEEP BUTTER WITHOUT ICE

And This, Too, in the Hottest Days of the Summer.

Long experience has taught me, says a writer in The Designer, that there is a way by which butter may be kept firm, without ice, even in the hottest days.

Set a large earthenware bowl in your pantry, porch or coolest place, and in this place a small bowl upside down. On this inverted bowl place your butter dish, with enough butter for the next meal, wrapped in oiled paper.

Over this drop a clean napkn, letting the edges come down over the small bowl and rest upon the bottom of the large bowl. Then fill the large bowl with fresh water up to the level of the butter dish.

Now, wrap a heavy towel about the large bowl, covering it entirely. Two hours later you may remove the towel and napkin, which you will find completely saturated, and your butter will be firm and hard.

The napkin acts as a wick and brings the cold water up to the butter, thoroughly chilling it. This is infallible.

Summer coughs and colds are obstinate and difficult to cure. The most prompt method is to take something pleasant which will gently move the bowels; a good laxative cough syrup. Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup will surely and promptly cure your cold. Sold by W. E. Bard Drug Co.

SOLDIERS BUY CAR OF LIQUOR

Commandant at Fort Roley Won't Let Them Have It.

Junction City, Kas., June 14.—A car load of liquor, ordered by the soldiers at Fort Riley, arrived yesterday, but Col. Ward, the commandant, would not let the men have it. The colonel put guards over the car and insisted that it must be sent back to Kansas City.

The stringent laws recently passed by the legislature make it impossible to buy liquor in Kansas. The soldiers, restive under the enforced dry conditions, placed liberal orders with a liquor agent who was here last week on pay day.

Col. Ward contends that liquor in the military quarters interferes with the discipline.

KILLS BULL WITH STONE

Farmer Is Saved From Terrible Death by Teamster.

Hastings, Mich., June 14.—Cleveland Strow, a teamster, killed a huge bull and probably saved the life of David Purchis, a farmer living near Vermontville, by striking the animal in the head with a large stone, fracturing its skull.

Purchis and a neighbor, Bert Hopkins, were leading the bull down the road near their homes, when suddenly it attacked the former, knocking him down and trampling him. It had no horns and could not gore him, but Hopkins was unable to drive the animal off.

Purchis was being roughly used when Strow came along and picked up a stone and hurled it, striking the animal between the eyes and the beast fell dead. Purchis will recover.

This will, written with a pencil, was filed for probate in Kansas City, Kas., this week, and the judge holds that it is entirely valid, says the Kansas City Star.

A lawyer would have taken three sheets of foolscap paper to say that and to leave enough loopholes in the document to give the heirs a chance to prove that the testator was not of "sound mind and disposing memory."

FILTHY MEATS ARE SOLD

FALL ON DIRTY FLOOR, PICKED UP AND USED WITHOUT BEING CLEANSED.

BEEF EXTRACTS OF CONDEMNED ANIMALS

These Are Some of the Charges of a Government Inspector Who Became Disgusted and Resigned His Position.

Washington, June 12.—The charges that the inspection of meats in the National Stock Yards at East St. Louis is a farce, made by J. F. Harms, a former inspector, have caused a decided sensation. Two government inspectors have been ordered to go to East St. Louis at once and make a thorough investigation of the packing houses and the methods of inspection.

They will make a report of their findings direct to Secretary Wilson. He is now at his home in Traer, Ia., but will return to Wabington next Tuesday.

Inspector Harms made his charges in a long letter to Secretary Wilson, in which he announced his resignation from the government service. He said that after nearly two years' work at East St. Louis he was convinced that the government inspection of meat there was a "travesty farce," and that the $100,000 annual cost is worse than wasted.

Mr. Harms' resignation has not yet reached Washington, but it is announced that it will be accepted without delay.

In his long letter Harms gives various instances in which he says meat that had been condemned by the inspectors was afterwards passed by those higher in authority. He declares that he was overruled many times without a hearing and that once when he had "held" several carcases he was transferred from one packing house to another before the final disposition of the meat in question.

He declares that conditions in East St. Louis packing houses are unsanitary and filthy, that meat that falls to the dirty floor is picked up and used without any pretense at cleaning, that water spilled on dirty floors seeps through into receptacles for food stuffs on the floor below, that condemned carcases are used in making beef extracts, and that the label "U. S. inspected and passed" is no guaranty of purity and cleanliness and no protection to the public.

He cites many specific instances in which improper practices were followed and offers to furnish further proof at any time. He names several government employes, who, he declares, are too lenient in their dealings with the packers.

An official statement, summarizing the work of the meat inspection force at the National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, for the calendar year, 1908, was given out at the department of agriculture yesterday. It shows the number of cattle passed on postmortem examination was 519,649; calves, 90,348; sheep, 450,235; goats, 4,054 and swine 1,577,453.

The number of animals condemned on postmortem inspection aggregated 8,354. It is shown that a total of 231,400,319 pounds of meat food products were prepared, and the amount of such products condemned on reinspection was 252,872 pounds.

The charges of former Inspector J. F. Harms that a favoritism is shown to the packers in the inspection of meats in the East St. Louis packing houses, and that much stuff goes to the market labeled "U. S. inspected and passed" that should be condemned, are corroborated by another inspector, who says he will make an affidavit to them, if an investigation is ordered.

The inspector is still in the government service, and says he does not wish to jeopardize his position by having his name used at this time.

"I know all about those eleven carcases, which were condemned by the inspector on the floor, and of which six were released to the packers by Drs. Clancy and Meadors," he said. Mr. Harms' statement relative to this matter is true in every particular. I know of most of the other specific cases he mentioned and I know that his statements about them are also true.

"I am not in a position to talk now, but I will be if an investigation is ordered from Wahington."

In his letter to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Inspector Harms said that many other inspectors could make statements similar to his, if they were assured that their positions would not be jeopardized. Dr. Joseph B. Clancy, whose conduct of the inspection department Harms criticised, says that Harms was a good, aggressive inspector, who was always on the job, and that he was usually assigned to positions where unusual diligence was required.

Dr. Clancy says that within the past few months Harms got too severe on the packers.

"On one occasion," says Dr. Clancy, "Harms was so severe in his rulings that he forced the manager of the packing house to resort to tears to try to win his case."

Inspector Harms is now at his home at Fremont, O., keeping his typewriter busy on other letters to Secretary Wilson. During his service at the packing houses Harms says he went through every department. He says he proposes to tell Secretary Wilson just what he saw in these departments.

A few weeks ago Harms made application for transfer to Cleveland, O. At the time he made the application Dr. Clancy wrote a strong letter of recommendation to the head of the bureau of animal industry in Washington. As proof of his own good record in the service, Harms called the attention of Secretary Wilson to the recommendation of Dr. Clancy, attached to the application for transfer.

He says he became so disgusted at what he saw in East St. Louis packing houses, from which St. Louis is supplied, that he decided to quit the service.

POSTMASTER ATTACKED

ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB MR. WILLIAM HOFFMAN AT 8:30 P. M. FRIDAY.

SEIZED BY MASKED MAN IN HIS STORE

Conducts a General Merchandise Establishment at Longwood—Rendered Unconscious by Blow With Revolver.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

A bold attempt was made Friday night to hold up and rob William Hoffman, for years owner of a general merchandise store conducted in connection with the United States postoffice at Longwood, but the men failed in their undertaking.

It occurred about 8:30 o'clock that night, while Mr. Hoffman was sitting alone in the store, checking up the postoffice receipts for the day.

He heard approaching footsteps and turned to face a huge revolver, held by a man almost six feet tall, with a mask covering his face.

"Give up your money," the stranger cried. Mr. Hoffman said nothing, but squirmed about until he managed to get from behind the counter.

He seized hold of the man and the two scuffled. Mr. Hoffman espied a second man on the outside, peering through the window, and was about to release his hold, when the would-be robber struck him on the head with the butt of his revolver.

Mr. Hoffman was rendered unconscious. When he regained his senses, shortly afterwards, the men had disappeared, but nothing was missing from the store.

The local authorities were notified of the attempted robbery and a description of the men was furnished, but so far no arrests have been made.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

JOHN F. SMASAL COMMITTED SUICIDE AT HIS HOME ON SATURDAY.

DESPONDENT BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

Had Served as a Member of the Police Force, and Later Worked for Missouri Pacific—He Leaves Wife and Seven Children.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

John Smasal, a Missouri Pacific painter and ex-police officer, swallowed the contents of a vial of carbolic acid at his home, 416 West Pettis street, at 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. He died thirty minutes later.

Despondency over ill health for several years past caused the deed.

Mr. Smasal was 55 years old. He leaves a widow and seven children, all residing at home. He had been ill with stomach trouble for two years past and quit work two weeks ago because of failing health. Saturday he complained of pains about his heart, remarking that he would not live long.

Members of his family attempted to cheer him, but to no purpose. He left their midst and shortly afterward a daughter heard him moaning in a room on the second floor of the residence. Fumes of carbolic acid filled the room and his face about the mouth was badly burned.

Dr. H. L. Barnum was summoned, but the patient died shortly afterward.

Mr. Smasal was a member of Sedalia camp No. 16, Woodmen of the World, in which organization he carried insurance. He belonged to Sacred Heart Catholic church.

His children are: Emil, Louis, a Missouri Pacific lineman; Margaret Mary, Joseph, Emma and Rosella.

Mr. Smasal was formerly a member of the Sedalia police force and was well known by the shopmen of the city. He had resided in Pettis county nearly two score years, and in Sedalia seventeen years. He was a devoted husband and father, and the family will have the sympathy of a host of friends in their affliction.

Funeral services will be conducted at Sacred Heart Catholic church at 3 o'clock Monday morning. The Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel will officiate and burial will be in the Catholic cemetery.

The following will be pall bearers: Joseph Zoernig, Daniel Mixer, Joseph Paradis, William Katzer, Frank Lorsbach and Thomas R. Rowe.

Cincinnati, O., June 13.—That Black Hand operations throughout the states east of Pennsylvania were conducted by "The Society of Banana," a secret Sicilian organization, which is an outgrowth of the old mafia, was confirmed by Postoffice Inspector Hosford, who returned to Cincinnati tonight.

Hosford conducted the raid in Bellefontaine where Coliegero Viccarrio, who is suspected of having knowledge of Lieutenant Petrosino's assassination in Italy, was captured.

"The name of the Society of Banana is a real one, and not a joke, as many have supposed," said Hosford tonight.

"It is a secret organization in which the most blood curdling oaths are taken, and four degrees are worked on initiates.

"The society has branches in every section."

BOUGHT THE "REVIEW"

C. H. BURGESS DISPOSES OF HIS ONE-HALF INTEREST TO MR. W. J. COTTEN.

THE NEWSPAPER TO BE INCORPORATED

Prof. Nate McCutchan, Superintendent of Windsor Public Schools, to Be the Editor and President of Company.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Persistent rumors of a recent change in the ownership of the Windsor Review were confiremd yesterday by the senior partner, Mr. W. J. Cotten, who stated to the Democrat-Sentinel that he had bought the one-half interest of his partner, Mr. C. H. Burgess, with whom he has been associated since May, 1905.

Mr. Cotten has been editor and publisher of the Review a greater part of the time since November, 1885, succeeding the well known editor, W. H. Walker, now of the Purcell (Okla.) Register, who founded the Review in 1876.

August last, on account of ill health, Mr. Cotten leased his interest to his partner for one year and moved to 414 East Seventh street, this city, for the purpose of giving his son a business course in a local college.

Mr. Nate McCutchan, a Missouri University graduate, class of '96, degree of A. B., widely known as one of the state's leading educators, and who has so satisfactorily and acceptably held the superintendency of the Windsor public schools for the past ten years, will be in on the new deal.

The newspaper plant will be incorporated, with Mr. McCutchan as president and editor and Mr. Cotten vice president and secretary, the capital stock in its entirety said to be about $6,000, being owned solely by these gentlemen.

The policy of the paper will be unchanged, remaining strictly independent, its columns devoted to the upbuilding of Windsor and the splendid rich country surrounding. The change in ownership is effective August 1.

The Democrat-Sentinel has known Will Cotten intimately for a long term of years. He is one of Missouri's very best newspaper men, and he made of the Review one of the very best weekly newspapers that reaches this office. Not only is he a first class printer and vigorous writer, but he is a genial, companionable gentleman who has made a host of friends during the few months he and his esteemed family have resided in Sedalia.

To the new management, Messrs. Cotten & McCutchan, the Democrat-Sentinel extends best wishes for success, and feels confident such will be their portion inthe journalitic field of Henry county, where their friend are limited only by the number of inhabitanat.

According to statements made by the management of the park, the lion was allowed to escape by a discharged caretaker.

The lion was finally recaptured, after being forced into a corner by a powerful stream of water from a fire hose.

ONE ON SENATOR STONE

'TWAS TOO GOOD TO KEEP, SO HE TOLD THE STORY TO COUPLE OF FRIENDS.

THEN IT GOT IN NEWSPAPERS, OF COURSE

Mr. Money Complains of Stone's Talk to Unknown Companion, Whose Identity Proves Embarrassing.

Washington, June 12.—"Who's talking? Isn't that old fool Bill Stone through yet? What's the sense in his talking, anyhow? Nobody wants to listen to him. Somebody ought to tell him to quit."

The interrogator was Senator Money, of Mississippi, who was stretched out on a big leather couch in the democratic smoking room of the senate.

The complaint was addressed to a tall form which had entered and taken a seat beside him.

Senator Money's eyesight is not good and he had not recognized the tall form. He had left the senate chamber while the Missouri senator was talking and was so weary he had sought the couch to rest.

After the long lank form had assented to all the Mississippian had said, Senator Money asked:

"Who is this sitting here?"

"It's that old fool Bill Stone," came the reply.

Here the story ends, for the democratic senator from Missouri, who has himself told the story, did not add what Senator Hernando De Soto Money said when he discovered the identity of his colleague.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"BATTLE ON THE BOTTLE"

HAS HARDLY BEGUN IN MISSOURI, IT BEING ONLY A SKIRMISH UP TO DATE.

SO ASSERTS THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

Rev. E. J. Moore, of St. Louis, State Superintendent, Issues a Circular Letter, "Facts That Must Be Faced"—A Ringer.

The Democrat-Sentinel is in receipt of the following circular letter, under the caption, "Facts That Must Be Faced," issued by Rev. E. J. Moore, of St. Louis, superintendent of the Missouri Anti-Saloon league, that furnishes food for thought in the face of the call for a state convention of prohibitionists to be held in Sedalia on June 24 and 25.

Facts That Must Be Faced.

Nothing is ever gained by blinding one's eyes to facts. The children's crusade in the middle ages slew thousands of young lives and bathed Europe in tears because enthusiasm ran away with judgment. Many a good cause since has suffered shipwreck simply because well-meaning people have not sanely considered all the facts in the case.

Similar dangers inhere in the cry that has been heard up and down the state, "Missouri dry in 1910." With 80 dry counties out of 114, many people have reasoned "it certainly will be an easy matter to carry the state for prohibition." In this sanguineness inheres serious danger. While it might be possible by united and earnest effort on the part of temperance people to overcome the saloon, still the task would be immeasurably greater than many suppose.

The Pettis County Case.

In the first place, it is erroneous to say there are eighty dry counties in Missouri. There are only sixty-one. The counties with wet county seats are in no sense dry. Pettis county, for instance, had no saloon outside of Sedalia before it held its local option election, and now has just as many as before. The dry counties, according to the last census, have a population of 1,109,762, while the state as a whole has 3,106,665.

Then, too, in all the local option elections that have been held in city and county, wet victories and dry victories together, the total dry vote has been 154,622 and the wet vote 119,020, or a total of only 273,642 while at the last state election there were 715,927 votes cast in the state as a whole. Only a little over one-third of the voters of the state, therefore, have as yet gone to the ballot box to express their opinions upon the saloon question.

Still further, in the counties that have gone dry, only about one-half the people voted upon the question. In some counties more voters stayed away from the polls than the entire local vote both wet and dry.

If the stay at home vote could be counted on as dry there would be great encouragement in this fact for all friends of prohibition, provided these people could be rounded up to take interest as they do at general elections, but as matters now stand it proves that as yet Missourians, however much they may talk, have never gotten down to business in fighting the saloons.

No Serious Setback Yet.

It should also be borne in mind that as yet the liquor traffic has not experienced any serious setback in this state. The leaders are scared, but they have not been much hurt. They still operate over 4,000 saloons, while only about 325 have been closed by local option elections. St. Louis, with over 2,000 saloons, Kansas City, with over 600, St. Joseph, with over 200, Springfield, Joplin, Sedalia, Hannibal and a long string of smaller cities are all open to the brewer and the saloonkeeper, and these are doing a flourishing business therein. The centers of population have not been touched. Only the rural districts have been just a little stirred up. The battle with the bottle, therefore, has hardly begun in this comonwealth. Just a skirmish or two has been held. The great conflict is to come, and all who expect to see victory must declare for an intense and protracted struggle in comparison with which all that has gone before will have been mere child's play.

People Are Not Aroused.

Another proof that the people are not aroused is found in the petitions that have been presented this winter asking for submission. Hundreds of these have come from all parts of the state; yet members of the legislature and newspaper men who have carefully examined them say that not more than 26,000 names of men appear thereon, while there are 750,000 An[illegible]ors in the state. This being true, hemia. apparent that the voters of the M., K. & [illegible]ave not yet moved in this parlently insa[illegible] last night, ar[illegible]ticular, for only one twenty-ninth of them have asked for this measure.

Knowing these things, and knowing, too, that in no state has prohibition been secured where such tremendous odds have been against it as yet exist in Missouri, the Anti-Saloon league has felt compelled to stand openly, forcefully and persistently for improved local option legislation by means of which the people might be able to bring in changed conditions much more favorable to final victory than have thus far existed.

Not Opposed to Prohibition.

The league has not opposed prohibition. On the contrary, it has strenuously advocated it, and for this it is both earnestly and steadfastly working. But it has not been willing to surrender its convictions that a siege is sometimes better for taking a fortress than a brilliant dash up against the walls. What the league wants in Missouri is the surrender of the forces of the liquor traffic. It does not believe in fighting just to show how brave it can be.

In several counties the local option law is not well enforced. Public sentiment therefore is not strong. These people want education along law enforcement lines. In other counties and many towns party prejudices are so intense that Christian men will vote for bad men on their ticket rather than good men on the opposite one. Those people need educating in citizenship, so that good men will stand together against bad men. The drys need to be marshaled against the wets.

A Fight for the Home.

Furthermore, voters in both country and town need to be aroused to realize that the fight against the saloon is a fight for the home, the public school, intelligence, social order and material prosperity. Once waked up on those issues they will get out and vote when the prohibition question is involved.

More object lessons are needed: Missourians need to be shown. We want to be able to prove by county after county and small city after small city and by districts in larger cities that local prohibition is a great blessing to the people. Then others living where the saloons curse will want to get in out of the wet and will busy themselves for dry benefits. Then the cause will go forward.

What has been done in Georgia and Alabama and Mississippi and Ohio and Indiana and Illinois can be repeated in Missouri if the people will only be patient and persistent. The education will come, the arousement will be secured, the gains will be made and the church will win the day over the saloon life.

Editor Who Conducts a Hotel Speaks Out in Meeting.

Editor Bradley, of the Leeton Times, who puts in his spare time conducting a hotel at that place, is opposed to the new law creating the office of hotel inspector, and says it will work a hardship on the small hotels in the state. He winds up his article by taking the following fling at the state senate:

"The state senate at its last regular session on more than one occasion showed that as a body it was possessed of the cheek of an ass and the impudence of the devil and that the state would be better off had this august law making body been kicked out of Jefferson City on the day of its first meeting."

STRIKE ON GOULD LINES

MAY BE ORDERED GROWING OUT OF THE TROUBLE ON THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC.

CONFERENCE SUSTAINS THE COMPLAINT

Timothy Shea, Vice President of the Brotherhood of Firemen and onginemen, Makes Significant Statement.

Texarkana, Ark., June 12.—A call for a general strike on the Gould system of railways in the southwest is believed not an improbable outcome of the meetings of the general committees of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, in session here, discussing controversies between the Texas and Pacific railroad and the employes' organization.

Timothy Shea, vice president of the organization, who is presiding over the sessions, says efforts to adjust the several disagreements, involving a demand that a discharged employe be reinstated and the right of the organization to represent its members in disputes be recognized, give but small prospects for a settlement.

While declining to be quoted as to the probability of a general strike, Mr. Shea concluded a statement as to the situation with the declaration "under the laws of our organization we have the right to involve the entire system of railroads in that jurisdiction."

Continuing, Mr. Shea said:

"The questions in dispute on the Texas and Pacific were presented to the body, and it unanimously indorsed the action of our organization in its contention with the Texas and Pacific officials.

"The conference feels that a great injustice has been done one of our engineer members in discharging him without any reason whatever, and also feels that the discrimination that is now being perpetrated upon our members employed by the Texas and Pacific must cease.

"We think our organization and its members should be treated fairly and honestly and accorded the same rights and privileges granted to other employes of the company. We want equal rights for all, special privileges for none.

"We are not asking the Texas and Pacific to grant our organization any rights or privileges that it has not always enjoyed ever since the Texas and Pacific was a railroad. These matters have recently been discussed with the Texas and Pacific officials, and we feel, in fact, know, that our position is justifiable."

Reptile Attacked Youth at a Frolic of Indiana Orphans.

Princeton, Ind., June 12.—When gleefully rolling on the lawn at the County Orphans' home yesterday the children were thrown into hysterics by James Chester, aged 8 years, who cried, "I'm snake bit!" and jumped up with a yellow and black reptile, nearly four feet long, clinging to his hand, its fangs buried in the flesh.

Pulled off once, the snake struck the child's hand a second time and fought hard as Matron Boren killed it. The child was hurried to a physician and will recover.

The species of snake is unidentified. One of the boys had sat on it.

A STORY OF SHAME TOLD

IN LETTERS THAT WERE FISHED FROM POND OVER IN KENTUCKY.

KILLED FATHER OF GIRL HE BETRAYED

Mob Seeks to Lynch the Man, and He Is Being Guarded in Jail—His Victim Occupies a Cell Not Far Distant.

Rockport, Ky., June 12.—Charged with the murder of the father of the girl he is alleged to have betrayed, Clay Smith, aged 25 years, married, is held in the Muhlenberg jail, guarded by a score of officers, as citizens have declared that he must be lynched.

In an adjoining cell, named as an accessory to the murder, is Bessie Kimble, aged 15, whom Smith is said to have ill treated.

On the night of May 16 M. G. Kimble was shot while in his bed. Later his daughter, Bessie, was seen to throw several packages into a pond. Officers recovered the packages and say they contained letters demonstrating Smith's guilt.

The letters had been written by Smith, it is said, and told of the intimacy between Smith and the girl, of her delicate condition and of his demand that she kill her father, as the latter would kill him when he learned the truth. The girl lacked the nerve, the police say, and Smith wrote, it is charged, that he would kill the father himself.

Smith's wife is the girl's sister.

TAFT TAKES HIS STAND

SENT MESSAGE TO CONGRESS TODAY ASKING FOR TAX ON CORPORATIONS.

HE ALSO IS IN FAVOR OF AN INCOME TAX

Says That There Should Be an Amendment to the Constitution to That Effect, Thus Making Act Absolutely Legal.

Washington, June 16.—A special message from the president, recommending an amendment to the tariff bill imposing an excise tax of 2 per cent on the net income of corporations and join stock companies, except national banks, savings banks and building and loan associations, was received by congress today.

The president also recommends that both houses by a two-thirds vote shall propose an amendment to the constitution conferring the power to levy an income tax upon the national government without apportionment among the states in proportion to population.

The president in the message points out the apparent inability of congress to agree to an inheritance tax, and as regards the income tax he refers to the decision of the supreme court, holding an income tax unconstitutional unless apportioned according to population.

"It is," says the message, "undoubtedly a power which the government ought to have, as it might be indispensable to the national life in a great crisis. The amendment, therefore," he declares, "is the only proper course, being preferable to reviving a law which has been judicially declared unconstitutional."

PLACED IN STRAIGHT JACKET

Patient at the Katy Hospital Whose Reason Is Dethroned.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

An unknown man, a native of Bohemia, who has been a patient at M., K. & T. hospital, was taken violently insane on the public streets last night, and was lodged in jail by Officer Jackson, pending investigation.

The man harbors the idea that he is an intimate friend of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, and continually requests that he be liberated, so that he can join "Teddy."

The patient became worse this forenoon, and, guarded by Officers Eads and McCabe and Billy Drake, was taken to the railway hospital, where he was placed in a straight-jacket.

20,000 TOMATO PLANTS

PARTY OF FIVE MEN AND TWENTY BOYS SETTING THEM FOR DR. CARTER

FOUR ACRES THAT ARE ALREADY IN BLOOM

Another 20,000 to Be Planted, Thus Giving Thirty Acres for Growing of Vegetable—Soon Erect a Canning Factory.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Five men and twenty boys were put to work yesterday by Dr. William M. Carter setting out 20,000 tomato plants on his thirty-acre tract of ground near the Country club, in Southwest Sedalia, where he is to establish, in the immediate future, a canning factory for the utilizing of the season's product.

These 20,000 plants will occupy thirteen acres of ground.

Dr. Carter had previously planted four acres of ground, and these first plants are now in bloom.

Dr. Carter intends setting out 20,000 additional plants within the next few days. All of these plants come from Springfield, Mo.

Today's rain is appreciated to the fullest by Dr. Carter, as it does away with the necessity of hauling many tanks of water for the purpose of watering the plants.

A first-class canning factory should have been established in Sedalia years ago. The local press has advocated it for years, but no one could be found who cared to take hold of the enterprise until Dr. Carter shied his castor into the ring, and it is to be sincerely hoped that his fondest anticipations will be realized on his investment.

THE LEAGUE AND THE BAND

Were Entertained Last Night By Mrs. W. S. Barnett.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Mrs. W. S. Barnett entertained the members of the Epworth league and the Epworth band of the Epworth M. E. church at her home, 819 East Ninth street, last night, in honor of the eighteenth birthday anniversary of her brother, Archie Neece.

Forty-five guests attended the affair, which was not concluded until 11:30 p. m. There were games and contests, Mrs. F. O. Withers winning the first prize, a High school pennant, while the second prize, a Teddy bear, went to Otis Smith.

The home was prettily decorated in the colors of red and white, those of the league, while even the refreshments of ice cream and cake were served in that design.

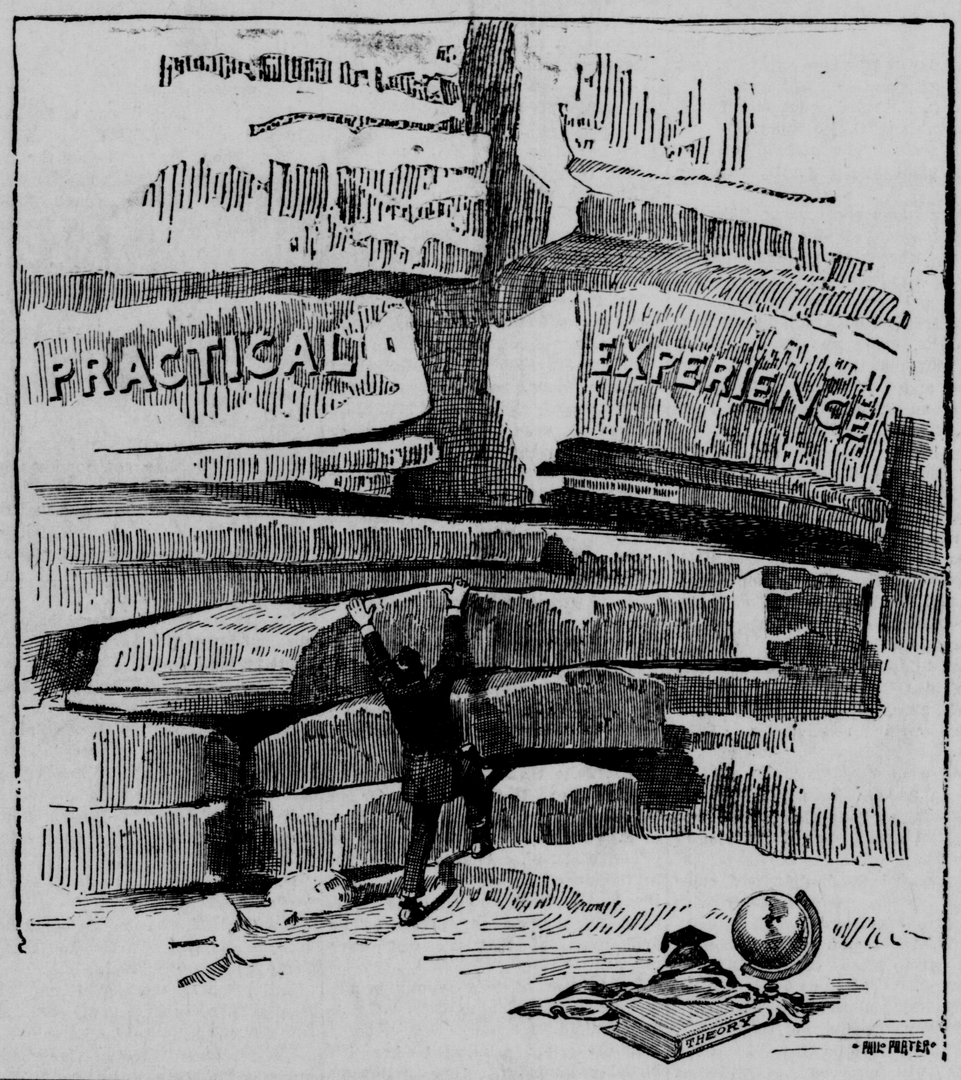
THE COLLEGE GRADUATE



WHEELER HOME BURNED

DWELLING AND CONTENTS DESTROYED AT 11 O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT.

THE INMATES HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Escaped Through a Window, But Did Not Save Single Article of Furniture—Loss of $1,250 Covered By Insurance.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Bert M. Wheeler's home, situated three miles south of town, together with the contents, was totally destroyed by fire at 11 o'clock last night. The loss is estimated at $1,250.

The house was a four-room residence, owned by George Emo. Mr. Wheeler held a lease on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler retired early last night, and shortly after 11 o'clock Mrs. Wheeler was awakened by smelling smoke.

She arose and began an investigation. She started toward the kitchen and opened a door leading to her bedroom. The kitchen was full of flames, and instantly they shot into the adjoining room.

Neither Mr. Wheeler nor his wife had time to gather together any of their clothing. Both hurriedly jumped through the window in the front room and barely escaped with their lives.

The house was reduced to ashes and not a single piece of furniture was saved.

Mr. Wheeler and wife, the latter only with a few pieces of wearing apparel, drove to town and are temporarily located at the home of Mrs. Wheeler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vollmer, on North Grand avenue.

Mr. Wheeler's loss amounted to $900, while that of Mr. Emo was $350.

The loss of each is covered by insurance.

HELD CABINET MEETING

President's Advisors Thought to Have Considered Tax Message.

Washington, June 16.—President Taft today held a special cabinet meeting at which Senator Root was also present. It is inferred that the meeting was called to obtain the views of the cabinet members regarding the president's proposed message to congress today regarding the tax on the net earnings of corporations. The protracted session gave rise to a report that the message might not be sent to congress until tomorrow, but when the meeting adjourned nothing was made public.

"Tom" Bast's Son Shot.

Joseph Bast, a son of T. W. Bast, the architect, accidentally shot himself in the right foot while hunting his home at Columbia last Thursday, but is improving satisfactorily, according to information received by his father.

The young man was hunting with a No. 22-calibre revolver. A cartridge lodged in the weapon and young Bast attempted to dislodge it, holding the gun against his foot.

It was discharged, with the foregoing result.

INVENTION OF KATY MAN

AUTOMATIC ASHPAN INSTALLED BY MASTER MECHANIC C. T. McELVANEY.

SAID TO BE THE BEST YET TURNED OUT

If the Pan Gives Satisfaction, and There Is Little Doubt That It Will, All Engineers Will Be Thus Equipped.

Denison, Texas, June 16.—Engine No. 329, a big passenger puller, has been released from the Katy shops here after a complete overhauling and is being broken in by Charley Rader, the south end engineer, and his fireman, Bob Chaffin.

This engine has been equipped with an automatic ash pan invented by C. T. McElvaney, master mechanic at the Katy shops here, which is said by those who have seen it in operation to be the best thing of the kind so far turned out.

The pan has a sliding bottom that is worked by compressed air, getting the power from the air pump on the engine.

The fireman is supposed to attend to the ash pan, and the lever governing it is on the fireman's side, near the blower cock.

When the air is turned on, the entire bottom slides forward, an air cylinder, which projects forward between the drivers, and fitted with a piston, operating it.

It is expected that if the pan gives satisfaction, and there is little doubt that it will, the engines will all be equipped with it as fast as practicable.

THE PROPOSED NEW BANK

Still Looking for a Desirable Location for Institution.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The reference in the Democrat-Sentinel last evening to the proposed establishment of a state bank in Sedalia caused no end of comment in business circles.

Today the names of several gentlemen have been mentioned in connection with the enterprise, but "mum" is the word with them.

W. A. Sanders, formerly cashier of the People's bank at Green Ridge, is said to be the prime mover in the undertaking, but he is not working with a brass band accompaniment.

It is said efforts have been made to lease buildings on the west side of Ohio, between Main and Second; the east side of Ohio, between Second and Third, and the west side of Ohio, between Third and Fourth, but all to no purpose.

If the enterprise succeeds, it is presumed the gentlemen interested will make their plans public in due time, but until then nothing definite can be stated in the premises.

GOV. HADLEY RAN BLUFF

HOW THE SALOON LICENSES IN JACKSON COUNTY CAME TO BE "RAISED."

AND ALSO THE SALARIES OF THE JUDGES

The Chief Executive's Play of Diplomacy Will Cost the Saloon Men in Jackson County $62,500 a Year.

Kansas City, Mo., June 16.—When the matter of raising state saloon licenses was brought up before the Jackson county court a few days ago, the two democratic judges stood right up and talked about republican extravagance, which had reduced the state to such extremes.

"Raise saloon licenses? Not much, never!" they said.

The word was carried back to Governor Hadley. Probably it was just a coincidence that he happened to have in his hand a bill which raises the salaries of the Jackson county judges $1,500 a year.

The governor also said something about extravagance. What he said was carried right back to the county court.

The result was that the court hardly waited to get in session yesterday before it raised the saloon license $100.

When Governor Hadley heard about it, he signed the bill to raise the salaries of the judges.

This little play of diplomacy will cost the saloon men in Jackson county $62,500 a year.

FAILED TO GET A LICENSE

Louis B. La Duke, Lamonte, and Lulu B. Hall, Knobnoster.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Louis B. La Duke, of Lamonte, a neat appearing young man, and Lulu L. Hall, a 17-year-old girl from Knobnoster, approached the office of Recorder Morey today and applied for a marriage license.

The would-be groom was of age, but his intended wife was not, and they did not have an affidavit from the girl's parents giving their consent, in consequence of which a license was refused.

"I thought we needed only two witnesses," the blushing would-be groom remarked, as he left the place, with instructions to get the permission of the parents for their daughter to marry.

MRS. GOULD A TERROR

WITNESSES SAY WIFE OF MILLIONAIRE INTOXICATED MANY TIMES.

SHE TALKED PERFECTLY SCANDALOUS

Employes Testified That Language Used Toward Them Would Not Bear Repeating In Open Court.

New York, June 16.—Evidence to show that the conduct of Mrs. Katherine Gould justified the action of her husband, Howard Gould, in declining to live with her was resumed today in the hearing of Mrs. Gould's suit for separation and alimony.

Harry Turner, florist, who has charge of the garden and flowers of Castle Gould, was the first witness. He told of several occasions when he had seen Mrs. Gould decidedly intoxicated, in his opinion. At one time, he said, he was summoned to the office of the estate and upbraided by Mrs. Gould. She kept repeating that she was Mrs. Howard Gould and appeared greatly excited and under the influence of liquor. Mr. Malley, the manager of the estate, was also present, and the witness said Mrs. Gould turned on him (Malley) and told him he was discharged, calling him names which would not bear repeating.

And Bell Telephone Co. Will Not Install Switchboard.

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The city council of Green Ridge has refused to grant a franchise to the Bell Telephone company for the installation of a switchboard in that town, in consequence of which the establishment of an exchange at Green Ridge has been temporarily abandoned.

Monday night was the time set for the council granting a permit to do business there. The switchboard had been ordered and shipped, and was in readiness to be installed, when the council "balked" and refused to permit it to be installed.

The matter is still pending.

THEY WILL QUIT THE ROAD

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

The Messrs. Quinn will resume their old positions in the Quinn shoe store, necessitated by the death of their brother.

During the day Assistant Chief Robertson attempted to cross a stream and sank to his waist in the mud.

For a time other members of the party thought Fred was going to be engulfed completely, but he managed to escape a horrible death.

REVISION OF THE TARIFF UPWARD.

Is Senator Aldrich revising the tariff upward or downward? This is a question often asked these days as one after another of the various schedules of the tariff bill are taken up and disposed of in the senate.

On cotton goods Senator Aldrich changed the rate from an ad valorem to a specific basis. Senator La Follette, who has been one of the conspicuous "progressives" in open revolt against the exorbitant duties the Rhode Island senator has forced into the measure, has made a valuable translation of the cotton rates back from the specific to the ad valorem. In view of Senator Aldrich's statement that the change was not such as to effect an increase in the tariff, the comparison is illuminating. La Follette's translation covers fourteen classifications in the cotton schedule, from which we quote as follows:

Take the grade of goods valued at over 10 cents—and I am going to read these through so they will be of record—valued at over 10 cents and not over 12½ cents per square yard; the Dingley ad valorem rate applied to that value is 2½ cents per square yard for the lowest value to 3¼ cents per square yard for the highest value. The rate fixed by the Aldrich bill is 4¾ cents per square yard on all, the low and the high. Increase over lowest Dingley rate 75 per cent.

Passing to the grade valued at over 14 cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is 3½ cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent, while the rate fixed in the Aldrich bill is 7 cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 100 per cent.

On the grade of bleached cloth, valued at over 11 and not over 12 cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is from 2¾ cents to 3 cents per square yard, and the rate fixed by the Aldrich bill is 4¼ cents per square yard on all, the low value as well as the high value, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 54½ per cent.

On the next grade of bleached cotton, valued at over 12 and not over 15 cents per square yard, the Dingley ad valorem, reduced to a specific rate, is from 3 to 3¼ cents per square yard. The specific rate fixed in the Aldrich bill for cloth of these values is 5¼ cents per square yard, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 75 per cent.

On the grade valued at over 16 cents per square yard the Dingley rate is 4 cents per square yard, but not less than 25 per cent. The Aldrich rate is 8 cents per square yard, no matter what the value may be, but not less than 25 per cent ad valorem, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 100 per cent.

On the grade of dyed cotton goods valued at over 15 and not over 17½ cents per square yard, the Dingley rate is 4½ to 5¼ cents, while the Aldrich rate proposed is 7 cents per square yard, an increase over the lowest Dingley rate of 55½ per cent.

Eight other classifications are translated by the Wisconsin senator in which the increases are, respectively, 28½, 33 1-3, 75, 22, 60, 4, 40 and 52½ per cent. Besides these there are nineteen other classifications in the cotton schedules in which similar increases have been made, but these are enough, to quote from Senator La Follette to "show whether or not Senator Aldrich is telling the truth when he says that the new cotton schedules are 'substantially the same.'"

WHAT ABOUT MEAT INSPECTION?

The people generally have supposed that the products of the country's large stock yards and packing houses, which are under governmest supervision, were invariably safe and fit for consumption. The charges made to the secretary of agriculture by a federal employe at the East St. Louis yards, who has resigned his position, that inspection there is a farce, will, therefore, cause surprise.

His accusations are such a serious nature that Secretary Wilson immediately ordered an official investigation. In the meantime the people will be curious as to what the facts are. The inspector who has quit work, because, as he declares, he could not tolerate conditions there, had been employed at the National yards for a year and a half. He asserts that the packers are today running through the federal regulation from 70 to 80 per cent of live stock that ought to be condemned and destroyed. He specifies one incident that came under his observation to the effect that a large quantity of lard which spilled was scooped out of a sewer into which it ran and was marketed. This is not very appetizing information to those who use packing house lard in their cooking and serve packing house meat on their tables.

If there is anything wrong with the packing house inspection it is not the fault of the law, but must be charged to individuals. The amended act, giving the government enlarged powers over the packers, is broad and strict. There can be no excuse under it for passing diseased cattle or unfit products of the slaughter house in any form.

If this is being done, which consumers will hesitate to believe without the presentation of strong evidence, it presupposes collusion between the government employes and the packers to evade the law. The protection of the public health requires the most stringent enforcement of the regulations prescribed for inspecting stock and meats and meat products, and if this is not done the responsibility rests with the officials in charge.

REVISION IS PROBLEM.

The question how often we should go through the travail of tariff revision is suggested in an indirect reference to the progress of the tariff bill in the current Review of Reviews. The editor of the Review, Dr Albert Shaw, thinks that the whole system of tariff building should be changed, and that with the present method the only thing that can be accomplished will be to take the Payne tariff bill as a basis and secure improvements in matters of detail. For the future he thinks that congress should provide for a "good kind of tariff commission, and adds: "An able and impartial commission, with due industry, ought to help us bring about a thorough-going revision of the tariff in about the year 1917."

Every revision of the tariff is so unsettling to business and entails so much industrial readjustment that it goes without saying that continuous tariff tinkering would be worse than submission to ordinary inequalities. No tariff is possible that would satisfy everybody, but a tariff should be made to meet conditions fairly as they exist at the moment rather than to reform conditions yet to develop. If it were possible to secure a reasonably satisfactory law now, with the additional assurance that, barring unforeseen emergencies and the correction of palpable mistakes, the next revision would not take place before 1917, and that it would then take into account results of a careful study of our entire industrial situation by a commission of unbiased experts, the country would without question settle down to an unprecedented and uninterrupted era of commercial enterprise and business expansion.

THE HOG TUBERCULOSIS

IT IS SAID TO BE INCREASING AND CAUSING GREAT LOSS TO STOCKMEN.

TWO PR. CT. SLAUGHTERED HAVE DISEASE

In Europe the Infection Is Greater Running as High as 5.5 to 7.5 Pr. Ct.—Animals From Southwest Not Affected.

Washington, June 16.—Reports gathered from the various meat-packing centers of the country show tuberculosis in hogs to be on the increase and causing heavier loss to raiser and packer alike than any other disease, according to the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture, headed by Dr. A. D. Melvin, who has gone to East St. Louis to superintend the investigation being made there of conditions claimed by a former inspector to prevail in the packing houses.

The hogs from the southwest, especially of Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, are given a clean bill of health, so far as tuberculosis is concerned. Their freedom from the disease is said to be due to the methods of caring for them, or, rather, the lack of care. They are not confined to feed lots, where the disease is commonly found, but roam over large areas to shift for themselves.

A bulletin issued last night by the bureau says:

"Statistics show that a year ago there were over 56,000,000 hogs in this country, and their value at that time was over $339,000,000. Federal inspection at the abattoirs of the country shows 2 per cent of the hogs slaughtered have tuberculosis. Reports from Europe show a far more widespread infection that runs as high as 5.5 to 7.5 per cent.

"The small amount of money required to start in the hog-raising business and the quick returns on the amount invested make it an attractive field for operations. Hogs will make greater gains on less feed than almost any other live stock, and at the same time utilize profitably waste food products of every variety, if properly prepared. As tuberculosis in hogs is chiefly contracted through feeding, the significance of the latter feature is obvious."

An investigation carried on by the bureau of animal industry in a certain section of the middle west consisted of tagging hogs hauled to market in wagons. Of 3420 animals tagged it was learned that all of the affected stock came from less than 6 per cent of the farms. It is known beyond doubt that the majority of tuberculosis hogs are produced by the following causes:

1. Feeding raw milk and slime from creameries.
2. Feeding separated milk from tuberculosis cows.
3. Feeding behind tuberculosis cattle.
4. Feeding tuberculous carcasses.
5. Feeding slaughter house offal.

FIGURING ON A NEW BANK

LOCAL CAPITALISTS ARE ANXIOUS FOR A LOCATION ON OHIO STREET.

THREE BUILDINGS HAVE BEEN EXAMINED

Former Banker From Another Town Is Interested—Formal Announcement Is Expected to Be Made at Early Date.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

The Democrat-Sentinel is advised that Sedalia is to have a state bank in the immediate future, if plans now well advanced are carried out, as it is confidently expected they will be.

The gentlemen interested in the undertaking have done everything possible to keep secret what has already been done in the premises, as they desired to first secure a desirable location for transacting the business of the institution before they take the general public into their confidence.

It is said that a wealthy retired business man is one of the prime movers in the enterprise, and associated with him will be two of the most prominent stockmen in the county, and a former banker in a nearby town.

An effort has been made, it is asserted, to purchase the lease on no fewer than three storerooms on Ohio street, all now occupied, but to no purpose up to the present time.

The project is not to fail because of a desirable location, a gentleman who is interested says, for if a suitable building cannot be leased one will be purchased.

The Democrat-Sentinel would be pleased to give further details today, but under the circumstances it is not possible.

ANDREW SHOBE MAY DIE

HE FELL FROM A SECOND STORY WINDOW SOME TIME LAST NIGHT.

WAS FOUND BY POLICEMAN J. JACKSON

Shoulder Broken, Three Ribs Fractured, Lungs Punctured and Condition Is Critical in the Extreme.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

"Andy" Shobe, aged 60 years, a well known sporting man of Sedalia, occupying rooms in the Arnold building, on South Lamine avenue, while under the influence of liquor, was probably fatally injured last night by falling from a second story window of the building to the yard in the rear.

His collar bone was fractured and also three ribs. The bones of the ribs punctured his lungs, and he was rendered unconscious. In addition to the above injuries, he sustained a severe gash on his head, together with bruises and contusions on other parts of his body.

Shobe retired about 10 o'clock last night. At 4 o'clock this morning, John Jackson, a police officer, while patroling his beat, heard the cries of a man, apparently in distress. He began an investigation and found Shobe in an unconscious condition.

Dr. F. R. Morley was summoned and ordered Shobe taken to the city jail. Owing to his condition, it was impossible to set the fracture of the collar bone, that being deferred until this forenoon.

At 11 o'clock this morning Shobe was removed to the City hospital, where this afternoon it was stated he is in a critical condition.

He was still unconscious and the attending physician held out little hope of his recovery.

St. Louis Live Stock Market.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

National Stock Yards, Ill., June 15.—Cattle receipts 5,500; all good to choice killers strong to a shade higher, other kinds fully steady. We sold one load of choice 1,532-lb steers at $7.15, which represents top and the highest price paid for a full load in several months. There were no cattle sold out of these at a lower price in order to mark the tops up, but on the contrary all the steers received in the consignment brought that figure. Most of the good to choice steers are selling between $6.50 and $7.00, and that includes yearlings; medium steers, $5.50 to $6.25. Good to choice heifers, $3.50 to $6.50; prime up to $7.00; medium heifers, $4.25 to $5.25. Good to choice cows, $5.00 to $5.50; medium, $4.00 to $4.75. Stockers and feeders, milkers and veal calves fully steady, top for the latter, $7.75. Demands for eastern shipment have been better than usual this week. Outlook steady on all kinds next few days, although prospects point to lower prices for the fair to medium kinds, in the near future, and a steady to strong market for choice grades for another thirty to sixty days.

Hogs receipts 10,000; market 5 to 10c higher than yesterday. All buyers were in the market early, shippers buying most of the good heavies at $7.85 to $8.00; mixed and butcher hogs at $7.60 to $7.80; packers also paid stronger prices, the bulk of the packing hogs selling at $7.40 to $7.80. Good pigs, $6.75 to $7.10; light pigs, $5.50 to $6.25. Clearance good; outlook good on the good kinds. There is room for improvement in the quality of the hogs now coming, and today's market would have justified a higher top than $8.00 for prime hogs.

Sheep receipts 5,000; good lambs and good light and handy-weight sheep strong to a shade higher. Top native spring lambs, $9.00. Top mutton sheep, $5.50. The bulk of the good sheep sold at $5.10 to $5.35. Heavyweight sheep slowest sellers. Choice clipped lambs, $7.75 to $8.00. Outlook fully steady next few days.—National Live Stock Commission Company.

The marriage of Emil L. Zoernig, teller for the Sedalia Trust company, to Miss Edith McCubbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McCubbin, occurred at St. Patrick's Catholic church at nuptial mass at 8 o'clock this morning, the Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee officiating.

Herman Zoernig was the groomsman and Miss Emma Boschert, of Bunceton, was bridesmaid. After the ceremonies at the church the bridal party and immediate families repaired to the home of the bride, 230 South Grand avenue, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

The couple left today for a two weeks' honeymoon tour of the west, and on returning here will go to housekeeping in Mr. Zoernig's recently purchased home on South Grand avenue.

During the wedding Mrs. Harvey MacGugin sang, "Believe Me, if All Those Endearing Young Charms;" Miss Kittie Allen sang, "Ave Maria," and Miss Louise O'Connell sang, "As Long as the World Goes Around."

Miss Veronica Sullivan presided at the organ and played Mendelssohn's wedding march from Tannhauser.

Walter Gibbons and Edward McCubbin were the ushers.

A large number of relatives and friends of the contracting parties attended the wedding, which was one of the prettiest ever solemnized in this city.

The bridal couple received a number of beautiful and valuable presents. A legion of friends will join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending best wishes for a long life of wedded bliss.

MORE THAN THREE SCORE GUESTS THERE

The Guest of Honor Is to Be Married to Mr. Charles Dobel By Rev. Fr. McNamee on Tuesday Morning, June 22.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

One of the most delightful linen showers ever given in Sedalia was tendered to Miss Mary Siler at Dobel's hall last night by her sister, Miss Maud Siler, and J. M. Dobel, in anticipation of her marriage to Chas. Dobel, a Missouri Pacific machinist, on June 22.

More than three score guests attended the event, and each presented the guest of honor with a beautiful piece of linen, some of which were both artistic and expensive.

At a late hour the guests indulged in dancing, for which "Prof." Channells furnished music.

After the midnight hour light refreshments were served and later the guests returned home, wishing Miss Siler a long and happy married life.

The wedding will occur at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, June 22. The Rev. Fr. B. R. McNamee will officiate. Harry Dobel and Miss Maud Siler will serve as groomsman and bridesmaid, respectively, and after the ceremony a wedding breakfast will be served.

SURVIVORS OF A HORROR

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BURNING OF THE STEAMER GENERAL SLOCUM.

OCCURRED ON THE EAST RIVER, NEW YORK

Terrible Experience of Peter Theodore Braun Said to Have Been Responsible for His Death at Allendale, N. J.

New York, June 15.—In memory of 1,031 persons, mostly women and children, who perished in the terrible disaster of June 15, 1904, the "Organization of the General Slocum Survivors" held impressive ceremonies today, the fifth anniversary of the burning of the steamship in the East river, with a Sunday school excursion party on board.

The memorial services were rendered doubly pathetic by the absence of one of the survivors of the Slocum horror, young Peter Theodore Braun, who died recently at Allendale, N. J. Mental agony due to the memories of the day of terror was the cause of the boy's death, it was said, and his pitiful case brought tears to the eyes of many when it was recounted at today's gathering of the more fortunate survivors.

Before the burning of the Slocum, on June 15th, 1904, young Braun, a member of the ill-fated Sunday school picnic party that was destroyed, was a healthy, athletic school boy of 14, handy with a bat and a school nine pitcher hard to get hits off of.

But in the hour of torture in the East river he used up all that was in him for the rest of his life, as he tried to save his mother and three small sisters who had jumped with him from the burning boat. After he had seen them go down, one after the other, he himself was pulled into a row boat and brought ashore.

Although he recovered physically from his burns and from the exhaustion in the river, the boy never recovered from the memories of it. Although not deranged, he became a victim of his sorrows by day and of his dreams of horrors by night, always dreams of shrieking women and burning and drowning children.

There was no more baseball for this boy. On the contrary, he shunned his companions, because he was always pointed out by them as a Slocum survivor. So pronounced did the boy's aversion become toward anything or anybody that could recall his losses that the boy's father finally moved from his home in this city to Allendale.

But the change did not have the desired result. With each succeeding summer and approaching anniversary of the disaster young Braun's grief became more intense and unbearable. This year he broke down under it completely and died. The physicians could do nothing for him. His father said that death was due to grief and memory.

Utilizing the Skins of Snakes for Garter Buckles.

Richmond, Va., June 15.—The newest fad of Virginia girls has put a price upon the heads of vertebrates, for the brilliant skin of the garter snake is now to be utilized for its legitimate purpose of supporting the open-work hosiery of Virginia beauties.

Exactly where and when the fad originated appears not to be known, but jewelers have found it to be worth their while to prepare the skins of snakes to be used as bows and buckles on women's garters.

WILL WORK FULL TIME

TEN HOURS A DAY FOR MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS SHOPMEN ON JULY 1.

ONE HUNDRED CAR REPAIRERS WANTED

Men of Experience Desired, and Preference Giver Former Employes —Other Departments Are to Have Forces Increased.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

Effective July 1, the working hours at the Missouri, Kansas & Texas shops in this city are to be increased from eight to ten hours each day. Master Carbuilder W A. Mitchell so advised the Democrat-Sentinel this morning.

Mr. Mitchell also stated that one hundred experienced car repairers are wanted, and preference will be given former employes.

Not only this, but laborers are also desired, and the forces in other departments are to be increased.

Those desiring employment should call upon Mr. Mitchell at his office at the shops.

The present force at the shops is a little less than 500. It has in times past exceeded 600, but with the panic of November, 1907, a cut was made, and since that time the monthly pay roll has shown on an average fewer than 500 employes.

There is a vast amount of work on hand, and it is expected the force in the near future will be increased to more than 600 employes. If so, it will mean much for the business men of this city—not any one branch, but all branches of trade.

The M., K. & T. is doing a splendid business at present, and is counting confidently on a record-breaking traffic this fall, when stock and cotton begin to move to market.

The Missouri Pacific is also in need of experienced car repairers, it having been only a few days since Master Mechanic McGraw made an announcement to that effect through the Democrat-Sentinel.

Inquiry today elicited that a number of mechanics had been secured for this department, but still others are wanted, and those desiring employment are asked to call upon Mr. McGraw at his office at the new shops.

The present force at the new shops is about 1100.
